Eleven Persons Killed and Sixteen Injured in Wreck.

CARS DEMOLISHED

New 18-Hour Train of Lake Shore Is in the Ditch at Mentor, O.

RELIEF SENT FROM CLEVELAND

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

MENTOR, O., June 21.—Running at the rate of 50 or 60 miles an hour the Twentieth Century Limited on the Lake Shore railroad dashed into an open switch at the passenger station here shortly before 10 o'clock. Eleven persons were killed and at least 16 badly injured. The combination baggage and smoking buffet car and the coach behind it caught fire and were destroyed.

THE DEAD.

FIREMAN GRAHAM, Collinwood, O.

FIVE BODIES, horribly burned, taken from the wreck; impossible to identify them at the scene of the wreck.

W. D. NICKEY, New York, identified by Y. M. C. A. card.

THE MISSING.

BARBER AND PORTER of the combination car.

THE INJURED.

CHARLES R. WELLMAN, of the Wellman-Seaver-Morgan Company of Cleveland, scalded and burned; will die.

H. B. WRIGHT, Chicago.

A. B. GORHAM, Norwalk, O.

J. H. GIBSON, Chicago.

C. CORDUA, Brooklyn, N. Y.

D. ARTHUR, Milwaukee.

S. E. BECKWITH, 15 East Seventy-fourth street, New York.

F. J. BRANT, Toledo.

Failed to See Signal.

The train was east-bound, having left Cleveland about 9 o'clock, and as it does not stop here it was running at great speed. The engineer did not notice the open switch until the train struck it. The engine left the rails and plowed into the ground, tearing up the track for yards. The two choaches following it jammed into it with great force and were crushed, the fire from the engine setting them ablaze. Fortunateley most of the occupants of these two coaches were rescued before the fire reached them.

The Lake Shore officials at once summoned all the doctors within reach, a number coming from Cleveland. The dead and injured were taken care of and sent on a special train to Cleveland, where they will be placed in hospitals.

The scenes following the collision were pitiful. The moans of the dying mingled with the cries and screams of the women on the train. Those in the rear coaches were not injured and they set about at once to rescue those pinioned in the burning cars. The fire spread with great rapidity and it was with much difficulty that the passengers in the two coaches behind the engine were pulled from the debris.

A relief train left Mentor at 11:46 p. m., for Cleveland with all the injured, who number, a Lake Shore official states, 15 or 16 persons. They are being brought to Cleveland, where a number of ambulances with surgeons are at the depot awaiting the arrival of the train.

Wreckage Took Fire.

This was the fourth trip of the flyer on its run from Chicago to New York on an 18-hour schedule. The train was the pride of the New York Central system. The train pulled out of Cleveland with five cars, four Pullman cars behind the buffet car. The combination car was burned completely and cooled off at 11:30 so that rescuers could get to work. About 15 passengers were known to have been riding in this car, and at least six of the number are dead.

Engineer Tyler, of the train, was taken from under the side of the engine, dead and horribly mangled, about two hours after the wreck.

Fire departments from Mentor and from Painesville were called and were at work trying to extinguish the flames in the combination car within 30 minutes after the wreck occurred.

The injured were taken from the combination car and sent to Cleveland on a special train. The Chicago sleeper which was behind the combination car swung from the track and crashed into the freight depot, which was completely destroyed. hTe engine was turned completely around when it struck the freight depot. Every car left the track, the rear trucks of the last coach only remaining on the rails.

D. C. Moon, assistant general superintendent of the Lake Shore road, stated late tonight that it looked as though the Mentor wreck had been caused by malicious mischief. He said that a fast passenger train had passed over the switch safely three-quarters of an hour before the Twentieth Century was wrecked.

Immediately after the wreck occurred it was found that the switch was locked open, so that no train could pass it without being thrown from the track.

RETAIL COAL MEN RIDE IN PITCARS

Convention Visitors See the Moon Run Mine of Pittsburgh Coal Company.

OFFICERS ARE RE-ELECTED

A straw ride in canvas-lined pit cars through two and one-half miles of the Moon Run mine was a feature of the entertainment yesterday morning of the members of the New York and Pennsylvania Retail Coal association by the hosts, the Pittsburgh Coal Company. The members of the association, who arrived in Pittsburgh Tuesday evening to attend the annual convention, were brought face to face with the dusky diamonds in their natural storehouse. When they left the big mine shortly after noon they had learned much of the operations needful to deliver the coal to them.

The party went on board a special train at 9:30 a. m. at the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie station and was taken over that road and the Moon Run railroad to the mine. Under the direction of the officials of the company they were shown the tipple and its operation, a string of coal cars destined for many points receiving their loads of coal and the several market sizes.

The Modern Mine Mule.

The delivery of the coal to the tipple in long trains hauled by an electric locomotive was shown to them, as the "Pittsburgh Coal Company's idea of a mule." Then they were placed in two long trains of the pit cars, which had been lined with canvas and straw and furnished with bench seats. The ride through the mine was made interesting by the information given by the employes and officers of the company. At the end of the first stage of the trip the party reached the power plant, fan house, air compressing plant and repair shops and were shown through these, many stopping to watch the great machinery in action. Then they were taken back through the mine and to the tipple. The party reached Pittsburgh at 1 o'clock and spent the afternoon as each desired.

At the business meeting last evening Col. William T. Endress was re-elected president, making his third term. J. Scott Baldwin of Elmira, N. Y., was chosen vice president and Secretary-Treasurer George H. Mitchell was re-elected. The executive board was chosen as follows: Robert J. Saltzman, Erie; O. W. Sears, Binghampton, N. Y.; John Cornash, Corning, N. Y.; J. A. Hughes, Falconer, N. Y.; B. U. Taylor, Olean, N. Y.; S. M. Hamilton, Dunkirk, N. Y.; F. W. Stickney, Buffalo, and Charles Bradshaw, Rochester, N. Y.

The address of welcome was delivered by Assistant City Solicitor L. S. Levine and the response by Col. Endress. Speeches were made also by D. L. Tuttle, general western agent, Reading coal interests; Deloz Hull, president, "Retail Coalmen;" J. E. Van Deusen, thanking the Pittsburgh Coal Company and J. P. Walsh, responding for the company. Secretary Mitchell reported a membership of 840 before the meeting and an increase of 45 at the convention.

The visitors will today be the guests of the Pittsburgh Coal Company on a trip up the Monongahela lasting all day and part of the evening.

PHILADELPHIA BANK FAILS.

Benjamin Gaskill's Forgeries Wreck the City Trust and Safe Deposit Company.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The City Trust and Safe Deposit Company, for years rated as a reliable institution, today closed its doors and Albert L. Tabor, a state bank examiner, was appointed temporary receiver. The company will liquidate and J. Hampton Moore, its president, recently appointed, will probably be appointed permanent receiver. A new company may be organized.

The failure of the company was the direct result of the forgeries of the late Benjamin H. Gaskill, the bank losing, according to President Moore, nearly $50,000 on raised stock certificates. The bank also lost during the brief tenure of office of President A. E. Appleyard.

Who Cares Just Now?

UNIONTOWN, PA., June 21.—(Special.)—The Fayette County Gas Co. has given notice of an increase in rates for domestic purposes from 10 cents to 25 cents per 1,000 cubic feet in Uniontown, beginning with the July readings. The increase is merely restoring the rates which prevailed until last January when the company reduced them.

PITTSBURGH TURNERS MAKE FINE SHOWING

Local Delegations Take Part in Parade at Opening of Annual National Festival.

[Special Telegram From J. D. Himsen, Staff Correspondent.]

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., June 21.—With a torchlight parade, with music and speeches including an address of welcome by the mayor of Indianapolis and an oration by Herman Lieber, the honorary president, the 29th annual festival of the North American Turners' Federation was officially opened tonight. Pittsburgh and Allegheny and other Pennsylvania towns were prominent in the parade.

Fully 700 Turners, members of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and McKeesport societies marched, and as usual they received plaudits from the enormous crowds that lined the streets. Pittsburgh has not been honored with any position in the conduct of the festival, but the district compared favorably, both in number of those who took part in the parade and in the manner of their marching, with any city represented here.

The following delegations arrived on the special train from Pittsburgh: McKeesport, South Side of Pittsburgh, Central of Pittsburgh, Duquesne Allentown and Allegheny. Some active Turners from Monaca and the Birmingham of Pittsburgh, arrived here yesterday.

Where is Herr Bloedel? is the question asked by Turners from all parts of the country. The veteran president of the Allegheny Turnverein is very much missed, but none of his delegation can give a reason for his absence. They say they dont' know why Herr Bloedel stayed away. Herman Schuster of the Central verein of Pittsburgh was prominent in the delegation today.

VICTIM PROMINENT LAWYER.

John R. Bennett One of Foremost Patent Attorneys in Country. Wife Is Prostrated.

NEW YORK, June 22.—(Special.)—John R. Bennett was one of the foremost patent lawyers of the country, and appeared in many of the important cases growing out of the infringements on great inventions. His most notable case, perhaps, was his victory for New York city in the celebrated Campbell suit against the city, which lasted for 27 years and involved nearly $27,000,000. A decision in favor of the city was handed down in the United States circuit court of appeals last December.

Mr. Bennett was past 60 years of age, married and lived at No. 88 West Thirty-third street. He had a fine country home at Danville, Pa. Mr. Bennett's principal recreation was driving four-in-hand through the country.

When Mrs. Bennett heard from a reporter that her husband was dead she was prostrated. It was 1 o'clock this morning when the reporter told the butler at the door that Mr. Bennett had been killed. Mrs. Bennett was on the first landing and heard the remark.

"It cannot be true, it cannot be true," she exclaimed excitedly and then retired to her room, where she became hysterical. Mr. and Mrs. Bennett have no children.

Polish Workmen Shot Down.

LODZ, June 21.—Eighteen persons were killed and 100 wounded tonight by volleys fired by dragoons and Cossacks on a procession of 50,000 workmen, which had been organized as a demonstration against the government. With 30 red flags they marched, shouting "Down with despotism!"

SECRETARY TAFT ORDERS UNION BRIDGE RAISED

Reaffirms Root's Decision and Will Turn Matter Over to Attorney General.

Secretary of War Taft yesterday reaffirmed the decision of former Secretary Root that the Union bridge over the Allegheny river at Pittsburgh must be raised to a height of 70 feet above pool level. The United States District Attorney at Pittsburgh will be ordered by the attorney general to institute criminal proceedings against the Union Bridge company and collect the penalty for failure to obey the order of the department—$5,000 a month from January 1, 1906, there now being due $30,000. The war department expects a fight and that the United States supreme court will pass upon the constitutionality of the act under which the order is made.

The attorneys for the bridge company claim that to comply with the order would amount to confiscation of the property.

In his decision Secretary Taft did not refer to the other Allegheny river bridges which Secretary Root decided need not be raised, but the department officials believe he would sustain the decision. A petition for a reopening of this case is also before the war department.

It is believed that he may leave this latter question undecided until the courts have passed upon the constitutionality of the act.

EX-CHIEF J. W. HILL IS HELD FOR COURT

Former Philadelphia Filtration Bureau Engineer Says Books Are Falsified.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—Magistrate Eisenbrown this afternoon held John W. Hill, ex-chief of the bureau of filtration, for court in the sum of $8,000. Bail was furnished by Robert K. Balfour. This action was based on the evidence of Frederick Schaffhauser, a former field engineer, who testified that he, personally, at the request of Chief Hill, falsified records and padded estimates in the interest of the D. J. McNichol Company.

Mayor Weaver announced this afternoon the engagement of three experts to make an investigation of the books and records of the bureau of filtration. They are William B. Parsons, E. T. Perrine and A. L. Kinsley of the New York Audit Company.

Ex-Postmaster General John Wanamaker spent some time with the mayor. The purpose of his call Mr. Wanamaker explained as follows: "I called on the mayor because for two months I have been absent from the city and I desired to pay my respects to him and to express approbation of the stand which he has taken."

Director Potter sprung a sensation today by summarily discharging from the department Lieut. John J. Lynch of the Lombard Street station, and appointing to his place a street sergeant. Lieut. Lynch was a friend of L. W. Durham, and this fact was responsible for his dismissal.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

Leaves $400,000 for Fuel.

CHICAGO, June 21.—The will of John W. Parmelee, who died recently, provides that his estate of $400,000 shall be held in trust and the income eventually devoted to the purchase of fuel for needy families in Chicago.

WESTERN SCHOLAR GOES INSANE IN ALLEGHENY

Dr. C. C. Rice, Formerly Associate Professor at Leland Stanford University, Is Held at St. Francis Hospital.

Found in Madison avenue, Allegheny, on last Monday morning tearing his clothes and showing other signs of being demented, Dr. C. C. Rice was taken in charge by the police and has been confined under guard in St. Francis hospital.

It developed yesterday that the man is a scholar of distinction and a former associate professor at Leland Stanford university in California. His home is in Lincoln, Neb., and his father, Nathaniel Rice, is now en route to Pittsburgh to take charge of the young man.

"A policeman discovered Rice acting strangely on Monday," said Henry Hunnesnagen, director of the Allegheny department of charities. "He was taken to Central station and although evidently insane, showed every sign of coming of a good family. The heat may have been a cause of his condition. He had $40 on his person and letters which showed his name. We sent him to St. Francis' hospital and he has been detained there until we could find his relatives. I had two telegrams today from his father, who is coming to Pittsburgh at once."

At the hospital it was stated last evening that Dr. Rice is still in bad condition. He is 27 years old. He was given his bachelor and master degrees at Texas university and his degree as a doctor of philosophy at Harvard three years ago, at which time he participated in conferring the degree of doctor of laws upon President Roosevelt. Shortly thereafter he was elected associate professor at Leland Stanford.

Last year he went to Paris to specialize and while in the French capital his mental trouble first became apparent. He is a young man of marked intellectual attainments and his attack is thought to have been the result of over-study. Last winter his ailment made it necessary for him to give up teaching at Leland Stanford and he went to the home of his parents in Lincoln to recuperate. Several days ago, after consulting a specialist who gave his assent, Dr. Rice departed for a trip to New York, failing, however, to reach his destination.

GIVES MORTON A CLEAN CARD

President Declares Cabinet Officer Innocent in Rebate Cases.

NOTES MADE PUBLIC

Shows That Harmon and Judson Quit Because They Could Not Have Their Way.

HINT ABOUT LIFE INSURANCE

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Room 16, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21.

President Roosevelt has given Paul Morton, secretary of the navy and newly chosen head of the Equitable Life Assurance society, a certificate of innocence in connection with the violations of the anti-rebate law by the Santa Fe railroad of which Mr. Morton was formerly vice president. The correspondence contained in a 10,000-word statement issued from the White House shows that Messrs. Harmon and Judson, as special counsel for the government in the Santa Fe inquiry, resigned on June 12, because they could not have their way.

The special counsel wished to bring contempt proceedings against the officers of the road, which would have included Mr. Morton. Their position was that the testimony adduced before the interstate commerce commission established a violation of the court order of March 2, 1903, restraining the company from executing any agreement to transport interstate traffic at rates lower than the published tariff of the road. This testimony, they contended, constituted a prima facie case against the officers of the road, and the only way to ascertain their guilt or innocence was through contempt proceedings.

Did Not Implicate Officers.

Attorney General Moody opposed bringing the contempt proceedings on the ground that while the evidence before the commission might show a violation of the injunction by the road, it contained nothing connecting any officer of the company with such violation. President Roosevelt took the same view. Both the president and the attorney general agreed that contempt proceedings should be instituted impersonally against the corporations in both the Colorado Fuel and the International Harvester case. The latter case, the president says, stands exactly on the same footing, and involves practically all of the western roads.

Not only does the president absolve Mr. Morton in the rebate matter, but he predicts success for him as head of the regenerated Equitable, and couples his name with that of Grover Cleveland as an influence of stability and honesty in the conduct of that institution. He says: "Your policy I know will be to give the policy-holders a square deal and to clean house thoroughly." As a secretary of the navy, as a railroad official and as a man with the courage of his convictions, Mr. Morton is warmly praised by the president.

Supervision of Insurance.

Although the Equitable case has nothing to do with the Santa Fe agitation, in which Mr. Morton has been subjected to bitter and continued attack, the president winds up his letter to Mr. Morton by declaring that the Equitable scandal demonstrates the need for government supervision of insurance corporations engaged in interstate commerce.

This exculpation of Mr. Morton does not mean that the Santa Fe prosecution is ended. The president points out that there is no more reason to prosecute the officers of the Santa Fe individually than to proceed personally against the officers of all the railroads involved in the famous case of the International Harvester Company of Chicago, which is charged with receiving rebates through division of rates between the great railroad systems and the Chicago, Lake Shore & Eastern railroad, a switching line said to be owned by the Harvester company. The president points out the difference between these injunctions and the injunctions standing against the beef trust.

APPOINTS PITTSBURGHER.

President Roosevelt Honors Roland J. Hemmick by Promoting Him in the Consular Service.

Roland J. Hemmick, the founder and organizer of the Pittsburgh Supply Company, was yesterday appointed by President Roosevelt consul to Peterboro, Canada. In 1883 Mr. Hemmick, having tired of commercial life, was appointed consul to Geneva, Switzerland. He returned to his country in 1890, and about five years ago was made consul to Windsor, Canada. Later he became consular agent at St. Thomas, Canada. His latest appointment is a promotion.

Mr. Hemmick, who is about 58 years of age, is the father of William A. Hemmick, connected with the Pittsburgh Supply Company.

HENDRICKS MAKES SCATHING REPORT ON THE EQUITABLE

Investigation Shows Reprehensible Condition of Affairs in Society.

FOUNDER IS SCORED

Hyde and Alexander Are Declared Unfit to Hold Office Under the Insurance Law.

FRICK'S POSITION COMMENDED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ALBANY, N. Y., June 21.—The report of Supt. Francis Hendricks of the state insurance department to Gov. Higgins upon his investigation of the Equitable Life Assurance society, was made public tonight. It sharply criticises the management of the society as well as the new trust arrangement for voting the stock, agreed upon by Thomas F. Ryan and the three trustees designated by him. In conclusion, Supt. Hendricks says:

"No superficial measures will correct the existing evils in this society. A cancer cannot be cured by treating the symptoms. Complete mutualization with the elimination of the stock, to be paid for at a price only commensurate with its dividends, is, in my opinion, the only sure measure of relief. This report, with a copy of the evidence taken on this investigation, will be transmitted to the attorney general for such action thereon as he may deem proper."

James W. Alexander, president, and James H. Hyde, first vice president, whose resignations were accepted yesterday by Chairman Morton, are severely arraigned in the report. Gage E. Tarbell, second vice president, is exonerated. Mr. Hendricks says it is an open question whether President Alexander and the other officers and directors who participated with him in the transactions of "James H. Hyde & Associates" are not disqualified under the insurance law, from hereafter holding any office in a life insurance company. The report characterizes these transactions as unlawful.

Attacks Society's Founder.

A surprising feature of the presentment is that Mr. Hendricks goes back to the organization of the Mercantile Safe Deposit Company, in 1876, by Henry B. Hyde, founder of the society, and declares that that company, which leases its offices and vault rooms from the Equitable Life Assurance society, does not pay sufficiently and profits enormously at the expense of the parent company, paying 20 per cent dividends. The safe deposit lease has 96 years to run.

Of Henry B. Hyde and the organization of the safe deposit and other subsidiary companies, Mr. Hendricks says: "Under his direction and management the society grew in public confidence and before his death it became one of the largest and most conservative insurance companies in the world. But he did not neglect his own interests or those of his immediate associates and dependents in the society."

The organization of the Equitable Safe Deposit Company of Boston by Henry B. Hyde, and its lease of space in the Equitable building, Boston, is criticised and the lease declared to be unprofitable to the parent society. This lease Mr. Hendricks speaks of as "jug-handled," and he notes that the real estate pays the society only 1.58 per cent on the building, while the Security Safe Deposit Company, which succeeded to the rights of the Equitable Safe Deposit Company, pays 18 per cent.

Hyde Gets Lion's Share.

Under the heading, "The Missouri Safe Deposit Company," the report says: "The late Henry B. Hyde, who by this time had become a firm believer and an expert in safe deposit business, concluded he could improve on the Boston lease by $4,000 a year in favor of himself and his friends, and to the loss of the society."

The stock of the Missouri Safe Deposit Company of St. Louis consisted of 2,000 shares, par value $100 each. Of these 1,749 were in the name of Louis Fitzgerald, and Mr. Hendricks says at this point:

"We have sent for Mr. Fitzgerald to tell us who the real owner of this stock was, but he has not appeared. It may be assumed that most of it was owned by Henry B. Hyde himself, for while he favored his intimate friends on the inside at the expense of the society, he kept the lion's share himself."

In 1902, when it was decided to sell the St. Louis building, the purchaser objected to this lease and the Safe Deposit stock was bought by the Equitable Life at $250 per share, James H. Hyde, the owner of 1,440 shares, receiving $352,800 in cash for his share. Of James W. Alexander's share in these leases, Mr. Hendricks makes the following statement:

A Charitable Construction.

"James W. Alexander says he signed these leases under the direction of Henry B. Hyde. I believe that to be the fact, and it is the most charitable construction which can be placed upon his acts."

The Commercial Trust Company of Philadelphia is next taken up. In 1898, the New York state insurance department refused to admit as an asset the society's advances to agents. The Commercial Trust Company of Philadelphia was then made the assignee of large advances to agents, and the trust company then credited the society with these advances as cash deposits. On December 12, 1904, the Equitable Life so assigned to the Commercial Trust Company agents' balances to the amount of $1,278,249. On the same day another assignment of agents' balances was made to the Equitable Trust Company of New York, in the sum of $1,539,925.

These sums were then entered on the books of both trust companies as loans to the Equitable Life, and interest was charged at the rate of 5 per cent. It is only fair, the report says, to say that the Equitable Life is a shareholder in both these trust companies and shares in their profits but it is pointed out that James H. Hyde also is a stockholder in them, and has "a strong interest in seeing to it that these trust companies run no risk and reap good profits."

Cared Nothing for the Society.

The organization of the Equitable Trust Company of New York, originally the American Deposit and Loan Company, was gone into thoroughly by Mr. Hendricks, and he calls attention to the fact that the Equitable Life paid $800 a share for 10,563 shares of Equitable Trust stock and that this stock now has a book value of $383.33 per share, a loss to the society of $416.66 a share. Mr. Hyde, however, and certain other shareholders secured holdings at $450 a share and have a book profit of $283.33 per share. This transaction shows, Mr. Hendricks declares, that the officers and executive committee of the Equitable Life were not solicitous for the society's welfare, but were active in promoting their own private interests.

"Notorious" Transactions.

The syndicate transactions of "James H. Hyde and associates" are referred to as "notorious." James W. Alexander's name is given in the list of participants and it is shown that in various bond issues by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., Speyer & Co., J. P. Morgan & Co. and Brown Brothers the syndicate was represented in the underwriting. The total profits of the syndicate are placed at $186,107, of which $63,751 each went to James H. Hyde and James W. Alexander. Another participant was William H. McIntyre, fourth vice president of the Equitable, whose share was $14,420. All of those who took part in these dealings, the report says, should be compelled to pay back the sums received by them. "This is only very mild punishment," says the report.

Mr. McIntyre, in testifying before the state investigators, held that he was not a member of the Equitable's executive or finance committee and therefore was blameless. On this Mr. Hendricks comments as follows:

"His comprehensions as to the duties of a director towards his trust estate is not surprising, for he was reared in the society since the age of 14, and under the immediate tutelage of the late Henry B. Hyde."

Frick Was Not Favored.

In records of the Mercantile Trust Company shares Mr. Hendricks found that on January 4, 1900, 100 shares of that company's stock were sold to George J. Gould at $500 a share and on the same day 50 shares were sold to H. C. Frick at $550 per share. On December 20, 1901, 150 shares were sold to M. L. Schiff at $900 a share and on January 3, 1902, 100 shares were sold to E. H. Harriman at $500 a share.

Extravagance and waste in salaries are severely condemned. The increase in this respect in the executive offices was from $350,100 in 1900 to $613,600 in 1904. It was found that President Alexander's salary was advanced from $75,000 per annum to $100,000 without his request in order that James H. Hyde's salary might be increased to the same figure. Chauncey M. Depew, the report shows, is paid $20,000 a year as attorney. David B. Hill received $5,000 a year, and Elihu Root for 1905, $75,000, also as attorneys.

Of James H. Hyde's directorates in various corporations, Mr. Hendricks expresses the opinion that he was "put on these boards for the reason that he was the financial head of a great insurance corporation whose assets were so large and whose ready money was always available for the purchase of securities which these great corporations are largely in the market to sell."

The pension of $25,000 to Mrs. Henry B. Hyde is condemned as unnecessary and probably illegal.

Frick Under No Obligations.

Of the directors Mr. Hendricks found that only 10 of the 52 owned stock in their own right and most of the others qualified on Hyde stock. "Mr. H. C. Frick is the only man," says Mr. Hendricks, "who on the record is not under obligations to Mr. Hyde and he qualified by Hyde stock."

Of the financial administration of the society, Mr. Hendricks says:

"The executive committee transacts all the important business of the society. The finance committee is composed of exactly the same men as the executive committee, with one additional director, viz., Mr. Jacob H. Schiff, senior member of the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., which has sold to the Equitable society, according to its reports, since January 1, 1900, $47,522,000 of bonds and $1,780,000 of stock."

The report then takes up the charges against James W. Alexander, James H. Hyde and Gage E. Tarbell, the latter being exonerated. Of Mr. Alexander, Mr. Hendricks says uncontroverted testimony shows that he was a participant in the "James H. Hyde & Associates" transactions, that he executed the leases detrimental to the society's welfare and has failed to meet the obligations imposed upon him, as chief officer of the society.

Hyde Severely Scored.

The summing up against Mr. Hyde is more severe. It sets forth that he permitted the society to lose heavily in its business transactions with the Commercial Trust Company; that he exacted salaries out of all proportion to his age, ability, or the value of his services; that he has been accustomed to draw large sums for expenses on his own unitemized vouchers; that he assumed domination of the society's affairs, until the presidency was reduced to a position of secondary importance, and that he proceeded to use the society and its assets more and more as if they were his own, until he was checked by the demand for mutualization and his retirement. "The policy-holders," says Mr. Hendricks, "are under great obligations to Mr. Alexander and the other executive officers for taking this step."

Mr. Hendricks found that the Equitable did not lose by advances to agents made by Mr. Tarbell; that no evidence has been adduced to show that Mr. Tarbell connived at rebating; that the sum of $135,000 paid Mr. Tarbell for commuted commissions was not excessive, and that no substantial evidence appears in support of the charge that Mr. Tarbell encouraged criticism of other officers of the society, or in support of the other charges against him.

May Take Legal Action.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Julius M. Mayer, attorney general of the state, arrived in this city tonight from Albany.

"I have read part of the Hendricks report on the Equitable," said Mr. Mayer. "If it is shown there has been any violation of the law, it is possible to bring an action against the trustees or directors to make them restore funds which it is alleged they have received in their capacity as trustees of the Equitable funds."

Frick's Skirts Are Clear

In referring to the directors of the Equitable society, Superintendent of Insurance Hendricks in his report says: "Mr. H. C. Frick is the only man who on the record is not under obligation to Mr. Hyde, and he is qualified by Hyde stock. He was chairman of the committee which submitted the Frick report and resigned from the board of directors immediately thereafter."

TALKS BACK TO THE PRESIDENT

Bowen Still Maintains That He Considers Loomis Dishonest.

DID HIS DUTY IN VENEZUELA

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 21.—H. W. Bowen, formerly minister to Venezuela, today made public a long statement in reply to President Roosevelt's letter dismissing him from the diplomatic service as a result of the investigation made by Secretary Taft into the controversy between Mr. Bowen and Francis B. Loomis, first assistant secretary of state.

Mr. Bowen declares the "Venezuelan scandal constitutes a national disgrace." He asserts that "the Loomis scandal" pervaded Caracas and constantly "grew worse and worse." Mr. Bowen says that shortly after he called the matter to the attention of the department of state, he received a cable offer from Washington of diplomatic promotion that would remove him from Caracas.

"I admit," he declares, "that I regarded the offer as an attempt to bribe me, veiled under the offer of a higher position and inspired by Mr. Loomis. I make no doubt that in the course of the recent inquiry it has been sufficiently plain that I did not think Mr. Loomis an honest man and that I did not believe his conduct as minister to Venezuela has been honorable."

When he went to Venezuela in 1901 as successor to Mr. Loomis, Mr. Bowen declares he found current rumors seriously affecting the honor and integrity of his predecessor, both as a man and as representative of the United States to Venezuela. Mr. Bowen says that feeling a sense of pride in representing the United States, these rumors were a source of continual mortification to him. Epitomizing the rumors, Mr. Bowen says:

"Mr. Loomis while minister was reported to have used his public position to fill his private purse by obtaining interests in concessions and in various claims against the Venezuelan government. He was commonly thought also to have been in the pay of the Bermudez Asphalt Company and to have made use of his own official position to give color to the belief that the United States government was especially favorable to the side of that company in its controversy with the Venezuelan authorities. I had no means of refuting these scandalous statements. Their substantial truth was assumed by my diplomatic colleagues as well as by the general public at Caracas."

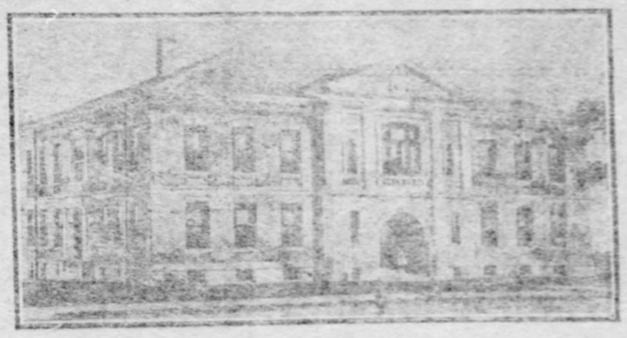
Handsome Addition to Swissvale's Buildings



New Hawkins Schoolhouse.

The first of the two schoolhouses authorized by the board of education of Swissvale borough for this year has been started at the corner of Braddock avenue and Vernon street. It was designed by Architect F. G. Scheibler, Jr., of Wilkinsburg, and the contract for its erection has been awarded to the George M. Hall company of Braddock. The building will be known as the Hawkins school and will contain eight class rooms, in addition to teachers' rooms and principal's offices. The exterior will be made more ornamental by handsome cut stone trimmings and marble toilet rooms and tile halls will add to the appearance of the interior. A system of mechanical heating will be provided. The building will cost about $50,000 and will be completed by September 1.

FORM OF WORSHIP MAY BE CHANGED

Jewish Congregation Likely to Introduce Organ and Mixed Choir and Remove Hats.

TO BUILD $100,000 STRUCTURE

Marked innovations in their form of service are to be introduced at a congregational meeting of the Tree of Life synagogue, Fourth avenue and Ross street, to be held next month. Among changes proposed are the installation of a pipe organ in the new synagogue, which the congregation proposes to erect in Oakland, the engaging of a choir of mixed voices, the uniting of men and women in service, worshipping without hats and other forms divorced from orthodox modes of worship.

It is expected that when these propositions come before the congregation bitter opposition will be met by a minority faction of the congregation who still cling tenaciously to ancient forms of worship. It is the belief of the rabbi, the Rev. Dr. Michael Fried, that the majority of his communicants desire these changes and that their wishes will prevail. Sunday lectures may also be added.

About two months ago the congregation sold its synagogue for $83,000. There has been a division in the congregation as to where to build. A minority favor a downtown location, while the majority have voted for an Oakland site. It is proposed to erect a $100,000 synagogue along the most modern lines, and to include a parsonage—also an innovation. A main auditorium with a seating capacity of from 1,000 to 1,200 is to be included as well as Sunday school and meeting rooms.

For several years the congregation has been slowly abandoning orthodox forms of worship, and while not adopting all forms which the reform congregation include has taken a middle-of-the-road stand which Rabbi Fried designates as neither orthodox or reformed but conservative. For several seasons Dr. Fried introduced mixed choirs during special services for young people, but opposition struggled so strongly that they were abandoned. Men and women have, however, been permitted to sit together in contradiction to the orthodox form which requires the women to sit in the gallery.

Instrumental music is forbidden in both the orthodox and conservative forms of worship, while under both governments men are required to keep their hats on during service and face the east. In the old Jempis in Palestine an elaborate organ was used for services, but as a form of mourning for the destruction of the temple and the organ, orthodox and conservative congregations have shunned instrumental music.

Dr. Fried has been rabbi of the congregation for eight years, assuming the charge shortly after his graduation from the Jewish Theological seminary of New York city. During his rabbiship the congregation has grown from 45 to 80 families, while 200 families are associated with the congregation in worship. He has also organized several auxiliary societies. The congregation is the oldest in the city among Jewish synagogues, having been organized over 50 years ago. About 35 years ago there was a split in the congregation, the reform element seceding and forming what is now the Reform Congregation Rodelph Shalom. The officers of the congregation are: President, H. H. Livingston; vice president, Isaac Jackson; secretary, M. Fink, and treasurer, Charles Spandau.

CHURCH PROPERTY IS SOLD.

Harry M. Berman Purchases Fifth Avenue Site for $150,000 for Unknown Buyer.

After months of negotiations the trustees of the old Asbury Methodist Episcopal church sold the church holdings in Fifth avenue, opposite Magee street, yesterday for $150,000. Harry M. Berman of the Merchants Savings and Trust Company handled the deal, which is the largest sale made in outer Fifth avenue for several months. Nothing is known as to the identity of the purchaser except that he is a prominent downtown business man.

A congregational meeting of the church will shortly be called to consider the building of a new church on the site of the present chapel at Forbes and Murray streets. The congregation is in excellent financial standing, and the sentiment prevails to erect a handsome, modern stone structure at a cost approximating $125,000.

TO BID FRIENDS FAREWELL ERE LEAVING FOR JAPAN

DECISION IN GREATER PITTSBURGH CASE TODAY

Both Sides Are Confident—Annexationists Have Another Plan if Defeated.

Unless all expectations fail the state supreme court will today hand down at Harrisburg a decision in the Greater Pittsburgh case, testing the constitutionality of the Cook law for the annexation of Allegheny to Pittsburgh by a joint vote of both cities. Both sides are confident of victory.

If the Cook act should be declared unconstitutional it is stated that the advocates of annexation will go into court with a petition signed by 5 per cent of the taxable residents of Allegheny asking for an election under the Goehring law, which allows Allegheny to determine the question of annexation alone.

PROPOSE TO ESTABLISH NEW GERMAN SEMINARY

Lutheran General Synod Recommends That English Alone Be Taught in Atchison (Kas.) College.

Debate upon the report of the board of education particularly upon the recommendation that the German and English departments of the Western Theological seminary at Atchinson, Kas., be separated, occupied the morning session of the Lutheran general synod yesterday. It was suggested that upon favorable vote of the German synods that a German Theological seminary be established at another point, and that endowment of the present German department be used for the new institution, and the board be authorized to receive special subscriptions for the new institution. After long discussion it was agreed to leave the final vote on the proposition to the two German synods and from views expressed it is believed that the change will be sanctioned.

At the night session synod reached final adjournment after selecting Sunbury, Pa., as the place for the next biennial convention, beginning May 23, 1907. Several papers were read and synod voted Bethany church a vote of thanks for its entertainment. The Rev. Dr. John Weidley replied. The names of ministers figuring in the controversy between Pittsburgh, Northern Indiana and Western Pennsylvania synods was ordered stricken from the synod records.

In the production of "The Mikado" next week by the Carleton opera company at the Nixon theater Mr. Joseph Sheehan, the well-known tenor of the Savage opera company, will sing "Nanki Poo" and Frederick Sullivan, a nephew of the composer, Sullivan, will sing the role of "Koko." The engagement of Mr. Sheehan is a strong card for summer opera, and indicates the kind of entertainment the Carleton people are giving music lovers.

MADE BUTTER ON THE TRAIN FOR PATRONS OF THE DINER

A dairy on wheels is the latest innovation in Pittsburgh's really up-to-date railway service. Butter made while you wait and served to passengers in the dining car is the delicacy the Panhandle road furnished those patrons who rode yesterday with Conductor Ruby L. Wees, who has charge of the dining car on train 19, which leaves this city at 9 A. M.

Conductor Wees seems to be a genius in economy. Several cans of cream in the dining car soured Tuesday night. When the train pulled out yesterday morning the chef reported the disaster to the conductor. Wees decided this was too good an opportunity to lose. He took a quart can and punched it full of holes. This he nailed to the end of a pick handle. All of the soured cream was poured into a large can and the improvised dasher introduced and manipulated by a train porter. By the time the train reached Dennison, Conductor Wees had turned out a five-pound roll of the finest kind of butter. Butter and buttermilk were served to the guests on the diner for dinner, and all who partook declared it the best they had ever tasted. There is some doubt, however, whether the making of butter will be carried on as another branch of the railroad industry.

Weather—Rain and Cooler.
Yesterday's Temperature—Max. 84, Min. 70.

A Section of News for Women

This section has some speaking underprices on fashionable Summer garments, also a brief or two for young ladies and girls, with a reference to such essentials of feminine dress as corsets, underwear, shoes, etc.

Model Coats at $25.00 from $45.00.

These coats have served the purpose of show pieces and models. No two are alike. They are silk coats—ponges, rajah, peau de sole. An opportunity to possess one or the other of the most fashionable wraps of the hour. About thirty in all.

Taffeta Silk Coats, $10 were $16.50 to $40.

Here's something you ought to consider well. The coats are black taffeta, some plain, some trimmed, some have white lining, some have black lining. Medium sizes, 34, 36, 38.

Traveling Coats, $13.75, were $25.

Serviceable, practical coats for everyday wear—made of cloth in the new block pattern—tan, mode, olive, oxford. Finishes are strapped seams and inlaid velvet collars.

Silk Dresses, $12.00, were $18 to $25.

Hot weather dresses, a small lot of good practical silk dresses in different grades of silk, made in the most approved style, modishly trimmed. Just such a dress as is needed for this sort of weather. Some large sizes among them.

Traveling and Golf Dresses, $10, were $15 to $20.

Handsome dresses from the well-known firm of Fisk, Clark & Flagg. Made of gingham, madras and linen—tailor-made, which means they are simply made. Simplicity is only another name for refinement. Sizes 34, 36, 38.

Fancy Novelty Suits, $25 to $50, were $50 to $100.

Don't think there are more than thirty-five of these suits, and there are that many materials and styles. Our price is less than any expert dressmaker would charge for making. Some of the prettiest styles that have been shown this season. Sizes 34, 36, 38.

Coffee Coat Suits, $5, worth $7.50.

Twenty-five of these linen suits, and they all have the new style skirt. All seams are finished so when the dresses go to the tub they will receive no hurt.

White Lawn Skirts, 50c from $1.

Only 200 of them, as smart a picnic skirt as one could desire. New shapes, new styles. You wouldn't make one for half a dollar.

Separate Skirts, $7.50, worth $15.

Twenty-five of these skirts, made of heavy cream white voile. Plain over hips, deep pleats all around from knee to hem. Finished with silk bands at top of flounce.

Black Panama Skirts, $10 from $15.

There is as much difference in Panama cloths as there is in different kinds of silk. These black skirts are made from the best numbers of Panama that come from the looms. Up to the moment in delineation, side pleated effects, finished with a deep hem.

Voile Skirts, $10 from $20.

If these were black you could not buy them at the price, but as we have too many blues this is the best way to put them in the hands of women quickly.

$1.00 Waists, 50c.

Don't expect to find a full range of sizes in each style—there are all sizes from 34 to 44 in the collection, and the collection includes many styles. Some white, some colors.

China Silk Waists, $3.50 from $5.00.

Embroidered China Silk, as pretty as pretty can be—you can have either black or you can have white. You will understand by embroidery it means that there is a silk embroidered figure constituting the pattern. All sizes.

Girls' Summer Dresses, $1, were $2.50.

Sizes for 4 and up to 12 years. Broken lines consisting of white lawn dresses, gingham dresses, madras dresses—nicely trimmed with lace and embroidery.

Girls' Bathing Suits, $2.50, were $4.50.

Sizes 6 and up to 14 years. This is a splendid offer, inasmuch as everybody has the seashore fever. The bathing suits are made of navy blue and they have fancy collars.

Corsets, 50c from $1.

Summer corsets of the very best sort—made of mercerized tape. They are the girdle model which is so popular for wear through warm weather. Finished with ribbon bows.

Woven Underwear.

The reduced prices for this underwear can be traced to the fact that the lines are broken, not all sizes in the different garments here given.

Charles B. Price for county commissioner has been received with universal favor. His character and ability have been recognized as above reproach. There has been no dissenting vote. The Gazette is proud to admit that his name was first mentioned in connection with the position in its columns.

The Hon. William J. Brennen and his heavyweight committee have formulated their demands as a consideration for delivering the Democratic party to the fusion movement. They want the candidates for register, clerk of courts and county commissioner—the one sure thing and two more chances. Appropriately enough the more valuable chance is apportioned to a member of the committee.

Apparently the Japanese are moving to attack Possiet bay, in Russian territory, preliminary to a campaign against Vladivostok. Possiet bay is an even better port than Vladivostok and will make a convenient base for operations against the other. This movement is probably independent of Marshal Oyama's plans in the interior, but affords another reason why Russia should have sought an armistice.

Henry M. Wilson of Franklin, who died suddenly in this city yesterday, was well and favorably known throughout the oil regions. He coupled with a talent for business a rare personality that made a friend of every patron. Prior to the organization of the company he was of the firm of Bayne, Wilson & Pratt, known everywhere as an association of genial gentlemen. He will be widely mourned.

After more than a year's delay the central board of education has voted again for the Magee site for the new high school. There is no better reason now than then to choose this site. The board has frittered away the time pretending to consider more suitable locations, but in reality hoping the public might forget. The additional high school is much needed. There is nothing in the course of the board to commend.

More than ordinary public interest is taken in the coming meeting of the Republican county committee because, in addition to election of executive officers for the campaign, it will pass on the proposed new rules. The proposition to change the rules to give the people a larger influence in the affairs of the party is timely. It is made in good faith, and with suggested modifications the new system should be adopted.

In the face of hot weather spinal meningitis has disappeared from the disease list in Pittsburgh and New York. It may be long before it reappears. The doctors say it is due principally to confinement indoors during cold weather. If so there is ample opportunity to prevent its recurrence by courting the outdoor air and sunlight. These things are freely provided by nature for all who are not shy of tan and freckles.

Thomas W. Lawson's latest installment of "Frenzied Finance" reflects less credit upon him than its predecessors. He accuses himself of demanding millions upon millions as his share of a transaction that he denounces as dishonest. Beyond that he broadens his field of attack to include gentlemen not identified with Amalgamated. Lawson might be passed in silence but for the fact that he imposes on a credulous public that has no means of verifying or refuting his statements.

New York city has just officially discovered the fact that Chinamen in the reform association have been maintaining a band of drilled men, carrying old Springfield rifles and wearing uniforms that resemble those in the regular United States army. The company had a picnic the other day, and Gov. Higgins immediately sent word to the police commissioner no such company could be maintained without the consent of the chief executive. The corporation counsel will be appealed to, and it is likely the organization will have to be modified or disbanded. It is said 20 cities have Chinamen in arms, and that they intend to serve as instructors of tactics in their own country.

Former Minister Herbert W. Bowen's reply to the president makes more or less interesting reading, but does not seem to help his case. It brings him into the open as an accuser of Mr. Loomis—a fact he denied at the beginning. At that time he said he had merely forwarded accusations current in Caracas, without animus. His attitude is now different. The official finding is that he failed to prove any of his charges. His reiteration of them to the public, under the circumstances, is unfortunate, and may compel the department to make public the refutation. Mr. Loomis, according to Secretary Taft's report, was indiscreet, and Mr. Bowen's conduct was characterized by the president as reprehensible. It can hardly profit any one concerned to continue the controversy.

The Santa Fe Case.

President Roosevelt's letter to Paul Morton will attract wide attention, but it should not be permitted to wholly overshadow the correspondence between the department of justice and special counsel which preceded it. That correspondence makes plain the fact that no evidence has been found tending to incriminate the managing officers of the Santa Fe, and that Attorney General Moody only refused to proceed against them on account of that fact. Messrs. Harmon and Judson freely admit in their correspondence they had no evidence implicating those officers, but recommended proceedings in the hope judicial processes would uncover the guilt they were looking for.

Bearing these facts in mind the letter of Mr. Morton carries conviction that he was not only innocent, but had issued positive instructions against the practices complained of. With this additional light, and with knowledge of the previous acts of Mr. Morton, the president was fully justified in expressing his entire confidence in the integrity of his retiring secretary of the navy. In pursuance of his policy of the square deal for every man he has insisted that Mr. Morton's position should not shield him and on the other hand, that it should not expose him to special attack.

It is cause for congratulation that this whole subject has been so frankly laid before the American people. There had been many charges and innuendos thrown out by prejudiced persons that a false impression had been created. Political opponents had not scrupled to assert half truths, or to base positive attacks upon scraps of misinformation. Now every man may ponder the facts and decide for himself. The result can hardly be unfavorable to President Roosevelt, Attorney General Moody or Secretary Morton.

A Good Ticket.

It was a fine coincidence that on the day John Stewart qualified as an associate justice of the supreme court of Pennsylvania, by appointment, the Republican state committee met in the same city and nominated him for election for the full term of 21 years. This was done by unanimous vote of the committee, more than 100 of the 122 members being present.

By this action the Republican state ticket for the November election is completed. It is a thoroughly good ticket, from Judge John Stewart at its head to J. Lee Plummer for state treasurer at its foot. The action of the Democratic state convention in nominating but one good man for superior court left the Republican candidates for that office without opposition. It is probable a Democratic indorsement of Judge Stewart will put him in the same position. The battle then will rage over Mr. Plummer and Mayor Berry for the office of treasurer. Mr. Plummer will be elected, as he should be. He is well qualified by experience and training for the office, and is a man of at least as good character as his opponent. Moreover, he is a Republican.

Bettering the Service.

Altogether apart from the individual merits of the recent Bowen-Loomis incident, the prompt and vigorous action of the president is a healthy sign. Time was, not so very long ago, either, when our diplomatic and consular service was under more or less unfavorable criticism. There are still defects in the representative service of the government abroad. Salaries in many instances are far below what they ought to be. It is not always the case that the best men for the foreign service can be procured, because of the insufficient pay and the unpropitious circumstances that surround some of the posts of duty, but the recent South American incident indicates that the personnel of the consular and ministerial corps is receiving the executive attention its merits demand. In no particular have the Roosevelt appointments shown more careful thought or wiser selection than in the designation of men for our foreign service of every grade. This is well. There is invitation for scandal and annoyance in the representative service that may lead to serious trouble at home and much humiliation abroad. Temptation to corruption or malfeasance and to petty imbroglio is very great even in some of the most insignificant and isolated foreign station. The president evidently believes in lifting the tone of the service to a very high plane, first by selecting men of character and integrity for the places, and secondly, by maintaining a thorough and rigid discipline over their official acts.

Mr. Bowen would hardly have been called upon to surrender his post in South America under an indifferent or careless ministerial system, for there is some ground for question as to his culpability, certainly so far as malicious intent goes, but his offense was quite sufficient to warrant the president's prompt action under the bettered condition of affairs in the foreign service. It is evident that the president intends that the government of the United States shall keep its skirts clean on foreign shores, and that our consular and ministerial corps shall be like Caesar's wife, above reproach.

Union Bridge Decision.

Secretary of War Taft's order, reaffirming the decision of former Secretary Root, in the matter of the Union bridge ends consideration in that quarter. The question yet to be determined is that affecting the power of the war department to take or to confiscate private property without compensation. Secretary Taft says the bridge was built prior to the grant of authority to his department to prohibit such construction, and refers to the protest of Col. Merrill, then government engineer in charge of local waters, which he says was all the opposition the department could make at that time.

There is now pending a case involving the Monongahela bridge at Brownsville that will have a bearing on the situation, but decision may be long delayed. We do not know what steps will be taken by the Union Bridge Company to defend its rights in the premises. They will develop, presumably, after official notice.

One phrase in the decision of yesterday seems to bear significantly upon the case of the other Allegheny river bridges. It is the statement that the secretary would, a fortiori, uphold the decision of his predecessor, and that rulings of the department must be given the weight attaching to determination of proceedings in equity. This is a correct attitude. There is nothing to be gained by frequent reversals that create uncertainty.

Business Women's Mistakes.

When the Business Women's National league convenes in New York city on the day after the Glorious Fourth, the assemblage will be called to order by its president, Miss Hardin of Denver, but it is doubtful whether in her opening address she will allude to the lamentable lack of business ability just shown by two other Denver ladies. The female bandits who invaded a store, masked with red bandanas and armed with revolvers, permitted a clerk with $300 to escape into the cellar, while they turned around to "ask the man at the door," as the clever clerk had told them to. Now it is inconceivable that Jesse James or Bob Younger or any masculine brigand could have been thrown off his guard in this fashion. Woman is a guileless creature, the salt of sincerity is the chief constituent of her character, and thus is she handicapped when it comes down to real business. Can we entrust a sex which bungles so hopelessly in a mere bagatelle with larger matters—say the promotion of Amalgamated Copper or the engineering of railroad rebates?

The ladies in Denver made a mistake at the start in the methods adopted. It would have been far easier for either one of them to marry the man and then get the $300 and as much more as he might have had. They might have done far better if they had not covered their faces with red bandanas—but of course that would have depended on their faces. The whole matter is one more proof—there are many in history—that the business woman is generally a failure. Cleopatra made far more impression on the Roman empire than Zenobia, and didn't work half as hard, and had a good deal more fun. The business woman's mistake is in doing things which she might get some man who isn't fit for anything else to do for her.

Minister Bowen is another victim of the letter-writing habit. He addressed Secretary Taft as "Dear Bill," but unfortunately did not add "Burn this."

Summer began its official existence yesterday. If its previous actions may be taken as unofficial we seriously question any further extension of privilege.

Minister Bowen emerges from the White House woodshed with a look of surprise and pain upon his otherwise handsome features.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Why sit ye here gazing up into heaven waiting for crowns and harps to be sent, express paid, and ready tuned and fitted?

Don't you know that you have to fit yourself to the crown, and to become filled with music before you are entitled to either crown or harp?

We have become so accustomed to beg of heaven its choicest blessings that we are fast becoming a nation of insincere beggars, and beggar-like we are inefficient for good.

This may come from our faith in the promise, "Ask and ye shall receive." This looks like a snap, and it is snaps we are after, especially free snaps.

That little word "free" will catch the eye quicker, and can be seen farther than any other word in our language. And yet we don't know its real meaning, but think that it means to get something for nothing.

We hear a lot about salvation being free. In fact that feature is harped upon by all religionists, and held up as an inducement to the people to accept it.

Every beggar, every shirk, every purely selfish individual, wants something for nothing, and they work hard to get it. And yet it is a well-established fact that the thing you can get for nothing isn't worth anything, or hardly anything.

* * *

Honor, fame, wealth and happiness are free, just as free as salvation, but none of them is given to beggars or to those who do not think them worth the getting.

You are not foolish enough to expect wealth unless you go after it. Nor do you expect honor and fame unless you deserve them. And you need not expect happiness unless you seek it. And you may rest assured that it will be given freely and bounteously if you seek aright and earnestly.

And you may rest as fully assured that you will not be hunted out and have these thrust upon you.

Nor can you blame the powers that offer these free, for if you were to offer food free to the hungry you would not go out and hunt them up, and then carry the food to them, but you would say to them that if it isn't worth coming for it isn't worth having.

And if you were to offer clothing free to all who applied at a particular door, you wouldn't be bound to give to those who applied at another door.

The air you breathe is free, but you have to breathe it. If you refuse to do this you will die in the midst of it. Thousands there are who are suffering from poverty in the midst of wealth, dying from hunger in the midst of plenty and going to the bad with salvation within easy reach.

* * *

Yes, we are a beggarly set, and great is the shame of it.

We profess to be greatly interested in the welfare of society, and in the betterment of the moral condition of the world generally. So we turn our faces up to heaven and pray that this may happen, and then wait for a great moral revolution to take place, for are we not told to ask and we shall receive?

Is it any wonder that so many doubt the efficacy of prayer, and question the truth of the doctrine we preach when our prayers are not answered and the promises we make in the name of heaven are not fulfilled?

It is all or mainly all, due to the fact that we are a lot of beggars who never tire of begging heaven to give us something for nothing, to do our work for us, and hand us a ticket to Paradise on a golden platter. And some of us would feel hurt if the golden platter was not given as an extra inducement for us to enter and regale ourselves amidst the endless delights therein.

We have only to listen to the prayers sent up to heaven, or toward heaven, to realize what a lot of beggars we are. And we have only to think seriously for a minute to realize that we are asking heaven to do our work for us, and the pay is just the same as if we had done it ourselves.

* * *

When you find a man moaning and groaning and complaining because business is not coming his way, don't you feel like telling him to get busy himself?

What better can we say to those who are moaning and bewailing present social and religious conditions?

If you are a practical, industrious, earnest worker, you can have but little sympathy with those who spend their time at the place of wailing.

It is said that the immense rough blocks of granite in the walls of Jerusalem at the "place of wailing," have been worn smooth by the wailers rubbing their heads against them while bemoaning the sad state of Zion.

Too many of our Christian chapels are little else than places of wailing and prayer meetings little else than congregations of sad and sorrowful people bewailing the present state of Zion, and begging heaven to do for them the things they should do for themselves.

From a business point of view this does not promise success, and those who are possessed of good business instinct will not take much stock in such an outfit.

Would it not be good policy on the part of churches to get more business-like, and pursue more practicable methods?

* * *

It is the beggardliness, or the beggarishness of some of our social and religious institutions that discredits them in the eyes of successful business men. And these same business men say that if these institutions were conducted on sound business principles they would cheerfully aid and assist them.

That business men will support institutions thus conducted is proven by the fact that successful schools, churches and other institutions are usually well supported.

The Rev. Conwell's institutional church in Philadelphia, Grace Baptist temple, is never hard-up, nor is it supported alone by its members. Business men seeing that it is run in a business-like manner do not hesitate to put money into it. Being helpful to the people who need to be assisted in a way that will enable them to help themselves, practical men of the world, regardless of denominational ties, are glad to lend a hand.

Working in the interest of a particular congregation or denomination and working in the interest of the classes of people who really need to be helped are quite different propositions, one being selfish and the other philanthropic.

Wanted to Be Set Right.

A minister who had preached a sermon on the murder of Abel by Cain was called upon during the week by a worried-looking man with an humble request.

"You mind that sermon you preached last Sunday forenoon?" said the visitor.

"Yes."

"About a man called Cain that killed his brother?"

"Certainly."

"Well, next Sunday would you kindly explain that he's no relative of Caine who keeps the shop in High street? You see, everybody has been thinking it was me or some friend of mine."—London Tit-Bits.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 21.—Today is recorded another evidence of the uptown march of the retail trade. It does not go beyond the limit heretofore marked, but it shows the inclination of the retailers to desert the downtown section and give it over entirely to wholesalers. The furthest north the big stores have heretofore reached is Herald square, and when the store now located there was projected a few years ago, the retail merchants of the city who had grown up in the business declared that it would be a failure. Now another department store is coming to Herald square, to be located at the corner of Sixth avenue and Thirty-fourth street, with an entrance also in Thirty-fifth street.

Plans have been completed for the erection of a six-story building on this plot, but before it is completed it may be decided to send it further up into the air. It will have a frontage of 50 feet in Thirty-fourth street and 20 feet in Thirty-fifth street, but the main entrance will be on the southerly side. The building is to be erected by Samuel Green and he has already had several applications from downtown store managers for a 21-year lease. One of them has asked that a more commodious building be erected, as he feels that there is a great future for a department store in Herald square. It is estimated that the erection of this building will enhance the value of other property in this section of the city to a great extent, and that other department stores downtown will seek a place to build in the neighborhood, at least for big branch houses.

Some More Kinds of June Weather.

New York has had about all the various sorts of weather old Jupiter Pluvius has in stock this week. The hottest June day on record was promptly followed by the coolest, and today we are having a try for the record as the "wettest." A succession of showers made life miserable for pedestrains this afternoon and the change was all the worse, since there were fewer indications of rain today than yesterday, and most people left their rainsticks at home. The result was that many shoppers had their gowns ruined, while men who run the streets on business and have not time to wait for the showers to blow over lost large sections of their tempers.

Sympathy for Mr. Alexander.

New Yorkers are like all Americans, they do not like to see a man hit when he is down, and although it is probable that Mr. Morton did not know how ill President Alexander of the Equitable society was, he gave him his conge when he was down and out physically. The deposed official has not yet been informed that his resignation has been accepted, as his friends fear it will have a very serious effect in his present state of health. While yesterday it was stated that his illness was not serious, today Mr. Alexander's friends admit that a long rest will be required to put him on his feet again. In all walks of life sympathy is expressed for the man whose lifework seems now to be closed, or at least that part of it on which he has spent his best years.

Tombstone Goes at Low Figure.

A $1,200 tombstone was sold by the sheriff today and it brought just $15. The stone was ordered by a widow fresh in her sorrow to mark the grave of her late lamented husband. Today's proceedings did not show the cause of her failure to pay the last $249 of the bill, whether she had run short of money or grief. At any rate the monument never got out of the yard of the builders, and it will remain there, as the monument company bid it in themselves. With a few changes it will later on fit some other beloved husband just as well.

Tammany Importing Boomers.

Tammany's preparations for a celebration of the nation's birthday is to include a minimum of patriotism and a maximum of politics. Two governors have been invited to be present, Folk of Missouri and Douglas of Massachusetts, and the aim is to have them say nice things about Mayor McClellan in order to help him corral the city's executive chair for another term. Mr. Folk has promised to come. Others invited include Col. Bryan, Judge Parker, Mr. Cleveland and D. Cady Herrick. If they all come, there is a good chance of a riot that will make the ordinary celebration of the Fourth look as calm as a May morning.

Wisdom of the Police Department.

John Vigeratto, a Harlem saloonkeeper, received a note telling him to carry a $100 bill to a certain spot and hand it to a man wearing a red rose in his buttonhole. The note was signed "Black Hand." John went to the police and asked advice. He was told to take a marked bill—his own of course—and keep the appointment. Two detectives followed. The man with the anarchistic boutonierre arrived and got the hundred. He also got away, but not until after Vigeratto had taken a shot at him. The police being unable to find the emissary of the "Black Hand" promptly arrested Vigeratto on a charge of firing a shot in the street. Thus a good record is made, and a new police axiom established—if you cannot find the robber pinch the victim.

Will Not Build a Mormon Temple.

John G. McQuarrie, the eastern apostle of the Mormon church, denies that he is to erect a Mormon temple on the piece of ground he has purchased in One Hundred and Twenty-third street. To prove that he means what he says he has moved his family into the house and prepared to make it his home. Mr. McQuarrie formerly lived in a flat, but his family grew to such proportions that larger quarters were necessary. He was not long in discovering that New York is a difficult proposition for a man with even only one wife, and he has not exceeded the legal limit. He admits that his congregation is growing rapidly and that a temple may be one of the necessities of the near future.

FORTS ARE WEAK.

Naval Maneuvers Demonstrate the Needs of Chesapeake Bay.

By L. W. STRAYER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 21.—In spite of all that has been written about the multiple destruction of Admiral Dickins' fleet during the recent Chesapeake bay exercises, the fact remains that this was not at all the point. It is more material to discover that famous old Fortress Monroe does not protect the Chesapeake entrance, that Baltimore will head the list of cities soon to be demanding more adequate fortification, that mobilizing all the coast artillery of the Atlantic coast in the Chesapeake bay forts did not furnish sufficient men for a three-relief system, that searchlight and range finder towers must be screened and mine fields protected by shore batteries, if they are to be depended upon.

The ease with which Admiral Dickins slipped in and out of Chesapeake bay entrance without hindrance from Fortress Monroe, will result in a demand upon congress for two new forts at Capes Charles and Henry. Every continent claims its Gibraltar. Fortress Monroe has been popularly awarded that title for the western hemisphere since its construction. The old stone work held its reputation pretty well during the rebellion. It has, of course, been made over, with new modern batteries flanking the now inadequate stone walls. There is no question as to the strength of these but their location does not seem to bar the Chesapeake entrance. Consequently there is nervousness about Baltimore and Washington.

Washington Defenses Best.

The former city has also a quarrel with its own defenses. They are good as far as they go, according to the experience of the exercises, but they are now regarded as insufficient protection against determined operations, extending over some period. They could stop the first rush of an enemy without much doubt. It is a question if they could hold out permanently against a patient, determined approach. The immediate defenses of Washington are fairly satisfactory. Fort Hunt and Fort Washington are located near a bend in the Potomac when the channel narrows and is quite rapid. Ships have to hug a high bank and move carefully in single file to pass. The two forts are so placed that they can bring a direct plunging fire upon that passage. But neither Washington nor Baltimore have land defenses. If Fortress Monroe will let an enemy within the big bay he could carry his transports with him and strike quickly and where it pleased him from the landward side of the water batteries. The limitations of available appropriations prevented the trial of such an experiment during the recent exercises.

Caused Exports to Grin.

All the encounters between ships of the attacking fleet and land batteries meant little or nothing. They added no whit to such information as is already possessed by the world about such encounters, and this information permits of substantiating almost any theory with voluble arguments. Military experts merely grinned a tolerant grin when they read every morning that the Texas had been theoretically sunk during the night. They looked eagerly, but in vain, for details as to attacks on mine fields and searchlights.

These, now coming out for the first time, show how easily mine fields may be disorganized, destroyed or raised by parties in launches or small boats, under cover of darkness or a well directed bombardment, unless rapid fire batteries can protect them. When a searchlight at Fortress Monroe "picked up" a ship of the enemy at over five miles, the value of this means of defense was illustrated. But the theoretical destruction of such lights, and of range finders that are mounted on similar towers, by the guns of the fleet, exceeded the theoretical damage done the Texas.

Searchlight a Good Target.

The value of the searchlight is its weakness. It is a shining mark. Moreover, as now used, hoisted on a conspicuous tower it is thrice exposed. With the searchlight destroyed by a hail of rapid fire gun projectiles, the main defense of a fort against a night attack is nullified. Artillery officers and engineer corps men will now try to devise ways and means for screening both searchlights and range finders against searching guns.

Congress will again be asked for sufficient men to occupy the expensive seacoast fortifications that have been and are still being cheerfully voted. It would seem a simple proposition that good sense forbid the construction of delicate and expensive machinery, on which the seasoast cities must depend for protection in the event of war, except men are authorized sufficient to protect this machinery at least from rust and dirt, to say nothing of so training themselves that it will be possible to utilize it in case of need. Simple as the proposition would seem congress has not been able to see it, when pointed out by army experts. Now the merchants and taxpayers and voters of Baltimore are stirred up. They will talk "turkey" to congress, as the army is not at liberty to do.

The Gain of Years.

"Yes," said the old man to his young visitor, "I am proud of my girls, and would like to get them comfortably married, and as I have made a little money they will not go penniless to their husbands. There is Mary, twenty-five years old and a really good girl. I shall give her $1,000 when she marries. Then comes Bet, who won't see thirty-five again, and I shall give her $3,000. And the man who takes Eliza, who is forty, will have $5,000 with her."

The young man reflected a moment and then inquired:

"You haven't one about fifty, have you?"—Judge.

The $100,000 Man.

From the Minneapolis Journal.

The search for hundred-thousand-dollar men, one of the popular pursuits after the formation of the Steel trust, has not yet run its course, though some of the finds have proved to be men who could sink a hundred thousand dollars quicker than they could earn it.

Unpaid for Most of Its Life.

The old court house at Memphis, Mo., which has recently been declared unsafe, was built in 1856 at a cost of $19,500. The last dollar of indebtedness on it was paid only five years ago.—Kansas City Journal.

IT IS TO SMILE.

Methusaleh—Just a word with you, young man.

His Daughter's Suitor—What is it, sir?

Methusaleh—You have been calling on my daughter one hundred years now, and I want to know if you mean business.—Puck.

The Foreigner—The presidency, I believe, is the highest office within the gift of the American people, is it not?

The Native—No; the highest office is the weather signal station on Pike's Peak.—Chicago News.

Ma (just returned from shopping)—Most any saleswomen nowadays is a counter irritant.—Philadelphia Ledger.

"Of course a kodak camera takes pictures," said he.

"Of course it does," replied his wife. "What are you driving at, anyway?"

"I was just going to remark that it also takes money."—Philadelphia Press.

PICKED UP IN LOBBIES.

Greenville Will Double Itself.

That the industrious little city of Greenville, Pa., will double its present population of 6,000 persons within the next five years is the prediction of L. L. Keck, one of the town's principal business men, who is in Pittsburgh today, having registered at the Anderson with E. S. Tompleton, counsel for the Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad, and Attorney W. C. Pettet, last night. Mr. Keck is a dry goods merchant and says that business is very good for the summer season. "Just last week the Bessemer & Lake Erie paid out almost a quarter of a million dollars to its employes," said he, "and of this amount more than $40,000 was distributed to the company's men right in Greenville. The city is proud of the Bessemer & Lake Erie and what the road has done and is doing for us. Its offices and the principal shop plant of the system are located there. Just now the company is spending a lot of money enlarging its facilities and preparing for greater things. The Bessemer men are a fine lot of fellows, from the officers to the shop employes—and all are proud of Greenville. But the Bessemer, of course, is not the only railroad we have. There is the main line of the old Atlantic & Great Western, now the prosperous and energetic Erie. Then, too, we have the Pennsylvania system, with its enormous tonnage. And just outside of the town is the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern. So we have ample railroad facilities. There is need for such accommodations, too, for the town is growing in manufacturing lines. The centralizing there of some of the smaller plants of the Carnegie Steel Company has brought a large rolling mill interest, with hundreds of employes. The weldless tube works, also a United States Steel Corporation concern, is another big industry. Taking these three large interests alone—the Bessemer & Lake Erie's central plant, the Carnegie rolling mill and the tube works—Greenville may well rank high among the smaller cities of the country. The place is growing rapidly, for other industries are springing up, drawing good families there. I believe, without a doubt, that within five years the population of Greenville will be doubled. It is not a big thing, nor a boom, but just the most probable outcome of the present steady growth. We have plenty of room to enlarge the city bounds, and will soon have to do so if conditions continue as they have in the past year or so."

Detectives Come With Roses.

Just as they were about to go from the Union station lobby to the platform to board the St. Louis limited last evening Attorney John E. Palmer, Jr., and Mrs. Palmer were surrounded by a half dozen railroad detectives. Had it not been for one evidencing feature of their appearance one might have thought that the Pittsburgh attorney and his wife were in the clutches of the law. One of the detectives happened to be carrying a large bunch of roses, as handsome a bouquet as any bride would want to carry. It was this that told Mr. Palmer, who was formerly a Pennsylvania railroad detective himself, that his former associates and friends were there for the sake of that warm friendship and not to take him into custody. The beautiful flowers were presented to Mrs. Palmer with the warmest regards of the Pennsylvania system's detective force and with wishes that the future home of the couple in the Indian Territory might be full of happiness. It was the other side of the sleuth life that made its appearance, as it does at all times to friends. Mr. Palmer has been appointed attorney for the Oil Well Supply Company of Pittsburgh, with headquarters at Bartlesville, I. T. His father, the late John E. Palmer, was vice president of the company. It may be remembered, by the way, that it was Mr. and Mrs. Palmer who were married a couple of years ago, but who did not make the fact public until a couple of weeks ago.

Gymnasts After Prizes.

Some 400 members of the Pittsburgh district turnverein went to Indianapolis yesterday in a special train over the Pennsylvania lines. When one considers that the local turnverein will have their teams in contest with teams from all over America, as well as with teams and individuals from Belgium, Italy, Germany and some jiu-jitsu experts from Japan, it will be recognized that only the most expert can win. It is probable that international contests will take place after American honors have been decided. There will be singing as well as athletic contests, and Prof. Rothleder of the South Side expects to carry off laurels with his chorus. The party was in direct charge of H. Schuster, president of the combined turnverein of Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia. The train was in charge of Raymond B. Jones, traveling city passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines.

The Word "Schooner."

"Schooner," according to the Indianapolis News, is a word of American manufacture. At Gloucester, Mass., about 1713, Capt. Andrew Robinson built the first vessel called by that name. As it slid off the stocks into the water a bystander shouted: "Oh, how she scoons!" (skims). Robinson instantly said: "A schooner let her be." The name has been universally adopted, but, singularly enough, is spelled in the Dutch manner, though it is provincial English.—Kansas City Journal.

The School Boy's Motto.

When Private John Allen was a student in a boarding school in Mississippi he used often to complain of illness. This usually brought a specially prepared breakfast with extras to his room. When missed from his class one morning the principal of the academy, who suspected there wasn't much the matter, went to the young student's room and said: "Mr. Allen, it seems that you are always sick." "Yes, sir," replied John; "'Sic semper' is my motto."—New York Tribune.

Pensions for Ministers.

From the Boston Transcript.

Rev. William A. Rice, D. D., secretary of the ministerial relief fund of the National Congregational council, referring to the Carnegie pension fund for college professors, discloses the fact that, some months ago Mr. Carnegie was approached with substantially this same plan, only that the pensioners should be ministers, aged, worn out and needy, in the service of the various denominations of this country.

Superstition Survives.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The decision to change the name of the training ship Chesapeake to Severn because of the bad luck which befell the first ship of the former name, shows that even in an age of enlightenment superstition survives among seamen.

NELIDOFF IS TO BE CZAR'S ENVOY

Russian Ambassador to France Is Named as Peace Plenipotentiary.

GREAT BATTLE IS IMPENDING

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, June 21.—M. Nelidoff, Russian ambassador to Paris, has been definitely appointed one of the Russian peace plenipotentiaries. When M. Nelidoff was ambassador at Constantinople, he handled some of the most delicate problems connected with Russia's near eastern policy. He and Sir Philip Currie, the British ambassador to Turkey, in 1896 had some historical tilts on the field of diplomacy and it was reported at the time that Sir Philip charged his Russian colleague with double dealing. In any case, the sultan conferred on M. Nelidoff the order of the Medjidiah, and it was reported that the Russian ambassador was to be promoted, which would indicate imperial approval of his diplomacy.

Official dispatches from both sides in Manchuria bear out the idea that the Japanese have commenced their main advance, though as yet there have been no heavy collisions. The Japanese are pushing forward in force along the railroad and the Mandarin and Mainaikai roads, their front stretching from Singlungchuan 15 miles north of Changtufu, and east through Sauanniaotzu station to Yaoma pass, on Mandarin road.

The Russians retired their advance posts without serious resistance and are evidently retiring to their first line of entrenchments, which is believed to cross the railroad at Sipinghai, 15 miles further north. They have a number of other fortified positions before reaching their ultimate line of defense at Kirin and at Changchunfu, 80 miles in the rear.

Lieut. Gen. Linevitch evidently has imposed an embargo on press messages, indicating that hostilities have entered on a serious phase. If negotiations for an armistice are on foot, they must bear immediate fruit in order to prevent a battle perhaps greater in its casualties than that of Mukden.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—It is intimated in official circles here that negotiations are proceeding looking to an armistice between Japan and Russia.

JUSTICE STEWART IS NOMINATED

Republican State Committee Names Him as Candidate for the Supreme Court.

HIS SELECTION IS UNANIMOUS

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau
Press Building,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 21.

Justice John Stewart of Franklin county was this afternoon nominated by the Republican state committee for justice of the supreme court. The election will be in November for a term of 21 years. The nomination of Judge Stewart was unanimous.

One hundred of the 122 members of the Republican state committee were present. Senator Boies Penrose, Israel W. Durham, ex-Auditor General E. B. Hardenburgh, ex-Lieutenant Governor L. A. Watres, ex-Superintendent of Public Grounds and Buildings T. L. Eyre, Deputy Attorney General Fred W. Fleitz, Republican City Chairman of Pittsburgh M. G. Leslie, David Harvey and Representative Woodward of McKeesport; ex-Register Fred Edwards and other prominent party workers were at the meeting.

Col. W. R. Andrews, the new Republican state chairman, presided. Herman Miller, the new secretary of the state committee, called the roll. The absentees of the members-at-large, all of whom sent their proxies, were ex-Congressman Sturtevant of Crawford; George T. Oliver of Allegheny; Hiram Young of York; Gen. Charles Miller of Venango; E. H. Owlett of Tioga and David H. Lane of Philadelphia. Chairman Andrews, in calling the committee together, said:

The commonwealth of Pennsylvania has experienced a severe loss in the death of an able jurist, who enjoyed the confidence and respect of the people, irrespective of party. In his death a vacancy has been created on the bench of the highest court in the state and in accordance with the provision made and provided in the permanent rules of the Republican party in Pennsylvania you have been called together to discharge the duty devolving upon you by nominating a candidate to fill the vancancy occasioned by the death of the late Justice John Dean.

During the campaign upon which we are now entering I hope to have the hearty, the loyal and the energetic support of the committee, promising in return every legitimate effort will be made during my administration of the office of chairman to advance the flag borne aloft by our great leaders in other days and consecrated to the perpetuation of the principles of the Republican party; a party to whom was confided by the lamented William McKinley the maintaining of his policies, the carrying out of which has made the American people the richest and most prosperous upon the face of the earth.

In an eloquent, clean-cut speech, Attorney Charles A. Walter of Franklin county, placed in nomination Judge Stewart. Mr. Walter paid a handsome tribute to Gov. Pennypacker in commendation of his appointment of Judge Stewart, and then proceeded with a sketch of the judge's career. His part in the Civil war was graphically portrayed, as was his professional and judicial career since. 17 years of which he has served as a judge in the Franklin county courts.

The nomination was seconded by ex-Judge Wallace, of Lawrence county, and A. C. Shrink of Schuylkill, after which T. Larry Eyre, of Chester, moved the nominations be closed and that the secretary be instructed to cast a vote of the committee as unanimously in favor of Judge Stewart. Cheers followed the announcement that this action had been taken. The committee then adjourned.

ASK COURT TO OUST WHOLE SCHOOL BOARD

Ben Avon Directors Fail to Organize, Issue Bonds and Let Contracts.

Six Ben Avon property owners filed a petition in quarter sessions court yesterday asking the court to declare vacant the positions of the six school directors of the borough on the grounds that the board refuses to organize and transact important business, stating that three meetings of the board have been held and at each meeting there has been a tie vote for president.

It is stated that at the last meeting on June 17 an adjournment was taken without setting a date for another meeting, and that the contract for an addition to the school building is being held up by the failure of the school board to act. The petition is signed by George Lysle, John C. Dean, George L. Brown, James Fleming, Frank Kurner and Charles F. Haya.

In May the people of Ben Avon at an election authorized a bond issue of $55,000 to build an addition to the school. Bids on these bonds have been received and have not been opened. The architect employed by the old board has prepared plans and secured bids to build the addition, but the directors are also holding up these bids.

The two candidates for the presidency were J. H. Watt and J. C. Bragdon. At the last meeting, however, it is said Mr. Bragdon offered to withdraw and elect George H. Alexander. This proposition was refused by the Watt faction and it is said that Mr. Bragdon then offered to draw lots for the presidency and this was also turned down.

SUNDAY BALL PLAYING IS TO BE REGULATED

District Attorney Stewart has issued orders to the county detectives to stop Sunday ball playing where the games are nuisances to the neighborhood or where they are conducted in close proximity to churches or Sunday schools. District Attorney Stewart stated yesterday any citizen is qualified to make information against Sunday ball playing, charging a nuisance or violation of the Sunday law, and that such complaints will be acted upon, but he believes that it is hardly reasonable to interfere where the games give no annoyance or interfere with church services.

ORDERS SHUFF TO BE PRODUCED

Court Hears Important Arguments on Evidence in Voters' Civic League Case.

PUPIL SUES HIS PRINCIPAL

Judge Buffington, after an argument in the case of John L. Shuff of Cincinnati against the Philadelphia Company, the Pittsburgh Railways Company and the Grant and Liberty Street Railways Company as to whether certain witnesses should be made to testify to certain alleged facts in the suit, ordered that Shuff must be produced as a witness in the case on Monday.

Under advice of counsel witnesses refused to answer questions relating to the amount of stock they held in the Grant and Liberty Street Railway Company, what they paid for it, if the 15 per cent required by law was paid in and what has become of their stock.

Attorneys A. Leo Weil, G. W. Guthrie and Starling W. Childs were present for Shuff and William B. Rodgers and George E. Shaw represented the defendant companies. Mr. Shaw contended that questions were asked to determine the validity of the company's charter and said they were intended to furnish material for other proceedings. He said the line of questions was "a fishing excursion" and to permit it would be a fraud on the court.

Mr. Weil said efforts were being made to prevent them getting ahead in the matter, that if they were fishing they certainly were not after suckers, but rather eels, being so hard to catch and hold. He said they allege certain things in their bill which they desire to prove and that the company has no legal right to build the line. Continuing, he said they desired to show the Philadelphia Company or Pittsburgh Railways Company is the owner of the charter and not the "dummies" named in it.

Might Take Ten Years.

It is competent to show, he said, that one corporation cannot get a charter for another, that it was done and is therefore illegal. If they were allowed to answer, he held, they could show that those for whom the charter was secured went into councils and bought the franchise. If each question must be certified to, he said, they would not finish in ten years. The delay was an imposition in the court.

Mr. Guthrie argued that the court had jurisdiction in the matter aside from the right of the attorney general of the state to inquire into the validity of the charter. The charter, he said, was not attacked, but the manner in which "dummy" directors voted to extend the line on to the boulevard. He characterized it as a fraudulent conspiracy, done by fraud and bribery with dishonest councilmen, which they desired to expose and he asked that the witnesses be compelled to tell for whom they acted.

Mr. Rodgers argued that the other side ask questions and refuse to specify their purpose. He asserted they had no right to attack the charter. If wrong has been done it has been done the state and a resident of Ohio has no right to interfere.

The court intimated that it would render a decision this morning.

Looked Like a Kindergarten.

Judge McClung's branch of the criminal court resembled a session of a kindergarten yesterday when the case of Prof. John H. Chatham, principal of the Fifteenth ward school, Allegheny, charged with assaulting Lindsey Kinnear, one of his 8-year-old pupils, was called for trial. By agreement of the attorneys the case was heard with only three jurors. Over a score of children who attend the Fifteenth ward school and who had witnessed the alleged assault on the boy were in court and testified. They were marched into the court room from the cars and occupied nearly all the seats inside the rail. Prof. Chatham, it was alleged, had kicked the Kinnear boy twice in the thigh because he found him quarreling with another boy in the school dining room during the lunch hour. Prof. Chatham denied injuring the boy, but said he pushed him aside with his foot in sending him up to the school office.

Most of the pupils corroborated Prof. Chatham that the boy had not been ill-used. The three jurymen returned a sealed verdict which will be opened this morning.

Howard E. Hopkins, a negro bellboy at the Hotel Henry, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of larceny made by E. E. Bonneville, manager of the hotel. Hopkins, it was alleged, was in the habit of rifling the rooms of guests at the hotel while they were asleep. He was captured by a detective who was placed in a room as a decoy and arrested Hopkins as he was about to abstract $10 from his trousers. Hopkins was sentenced four months to the workhouse.

Mary Mazer was acquitted and the costs placed on Ruben Miller of Bluff street, who charged her with stealing several dresses from the house where she was employed as a domestic.

Isaac Selzer was convicted on a charge of false pretense. He was accused of securing a loan of $3,000 from Stephen Kravnak, a South Side grocer, by representing he had purchased a house, which it was discovered later was owned by his brother.

Jury Gets a Roast.

"This is a case in which the jury has paid absolutely no attention to the evidence in the case," remarked Judge Kennedy, as with a disgusted motion of his hand he waved away 12 jurors who had returned a verdict acquitting "Jack" McClelland, the well-known pugilist, and his brother, Charles McClelland, on a charge of assault and battery, placing the costs on the prosecutor. Abe Hall, a negro. To further show his displeasure at the verdict Judge Kennedy at once made an order setting aside that part of it which assessed Hall with the costs.

Hall charged the McClelland brothers with assaulting him at Center avenue and Soho streets and said that "Jack" McClelland had hit him with a pair of knucklers and pointed a revolver at him. Hall claims he was also struck on the head with a club and badly injured. The assault was admitted, but the McClellands, who said Hall had only been hit with "Jack" McClelland's fist and claimed this was done because he had struck their aged father.

William McClelland, brother of the other two defendants, and James J. Fleming were tried and acquitted before Judge McClung on charges of assault and battery made by Alexander Maxwell, a negro, and the latter ordered to pay the costs. McCleland and Fleming were alleged to have beaten Maxwell in Soho street.

To expedite business in criminal court assault and battery cases are being grouped and heard by one jury. Five cases were heard by one jury yesterday. The scene at the counsel table gave the impression of an important case involving many persons owing to the array of defendants, prosecutors and attorneys. This is done in order that the petty cases may not tie up the court for want of jurors. In most cases the costs were divided.

Pastor Sued for a Note.

Kate Bode, executrix of the estate of John Bode, deceased, had a writ of replevin issued against the Rev. J. J. Vogt, pastor of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church at Verona, to recover a note for $1,000, which she alleges he took and unjustly detains against sureties, pledges, etc. She also filed a suit to recover the amount of the note and interest, claiming she is damaged to the extent of $15,000. She alleges that John Bode loaned the church $1,000, taking its note, but leaving it in the possession of the Rev. Clement Crogman, then pastor of the church, where it remained till Crogman died about a year ago, when it fell into the possession of the Rev. M. Vogt, his successor. She claims he refused to give up the note which has never been paid.

The J. C. Lappe Tanning Company filed an affidavit of defense to the suit brought by J. L. Autereith to recover on a $25 check. The check, it is alleged, was sent to J. T. Tildman, a traveling salesman for the Lappe Tanning Company, and was sent to Dayton, O., for expense money. Instead of going to Dayton, Tildman, it is alleged, came to Pittsburgh and was discharged, but the letter containing the check was forwarded to him and he had it cashed by Autereith. The tanning company alleges it tried to get possession of the check after discharging Tildman, and when it could not do so stopped payment on the check. They aver the check did not belong to Tildman and was the company's property.

Wants Thousands Returned.

The Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal Railroad Company filed a suit against Bothwell & Carson, contractors, who built a portion of the road, to recover $17,627.21 and interest from November, 1904. It is alleged the money claimed was, through an error, over-paid on one of the estimates, $118,027.64 being paid, but when the final estimate was made it was found to be but $100,400.43.

Thomas S. Bradwell and Amelia R. Steel filed a bill in equity against the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal railroad asking for an injunction to restrain the company from trespassing on Elm street, Greentree. They allege the company, in increasing its yards, obstruct the street, which is the only thoroughfare leading to the plaintiff's property.

The following libels in divorce were filed: Miriam C. Werner against Boyd C. Werner, cruelty; Margaret Plunkett against John F. Plunkett, desertion; Carrie Benzer against Joseph Benzer, desertion.

An order was made by Judge Brown allowing the Union Regular Baptist church of the South Side to amend its charter.

An argument for injunction was heard by Judge Buffington in the United States circuit court in the case of the Penn Electric Manufacturing Company against Conroy, Prugh & Co. The action is to restrain the defendant from manufacturing a patent mirror.

Grand Jury Returns.

A petition in involuntary bankruptcy was filed against Abraham Solof, a merchant of this city. The petitioners are the Danville Manufacturing Company and R. E. Edmonds and Simon Solof. The alleged debt is $614.77.

The grand jury returned the following true bills: False pretense, W. H. Bowers; riot, Thomas J. Grogan; embezzlement, A. L. Marshall, G. Leone, George Kazona; felonious assault, Thomas J. Grogan, Frank Koller; larceny, John Stacey, Cora Brown, Paul Bachman, Anna Maywalt; aggravated assault and battery, Abraham Hall, C. Davis et al., Charles Page; larceny by bailee, Fred Damia, Albert Wilmer; assault and battery, William Kane, Mike Gawles, Anton Zosac, Samuel Kresselman, Mike Frederick, Gustave Nagel, Flora Sloan, India Glover, Charles Leiberman; nuisance, Albert H. Pape; misdemeanor, E. Metzinger, W. H. Bowers, Samuel Creiz, E. M. Keeghen, George Washington, Isaac Wall, John H. Ramsey.

Executions issued—City Insurance Company of Pittsburgh vs. Frank Barnes, $5,642.50; Dilworth Bros. vs. A. Lewandowsky, $958.04; Charles and Katherine Maul vs. F. H. De Arment, $250; H. B. Claflin Company vs. Leonard Tintner, $363.04; Henry Schiff & Co. vs. same, $516.99.

DEMOCRATS SLATE MEYER AND BARR

Former for Register and Latter Gets Renomination for Clerk of Courts.

CONTENT WITH THREE PLACES

Henry Meyer of Allegheny was picked by the Democratic fusion committee yesterday afternoon for register of wills, one of the three county offices allotted by the Citizens party leaders to their allies. The committee held a meeting in the office of James M. Guffey, which was attended by Col. Guffey, Controller Larkin, County Commissioner Clark, W. J. Brennen and Henry Meyer. Charles B. Payne and Clerk of Courts F. X. Barr, both candidates for register of wills, were also present during the conference.

Both Barr and Payne were told they would have to withdraw, as the Citizens leaders would not agree to give Barr a higher office than the one he now holds and that he would not get that if he held out for register of wills. Rather than take the chance of getting nothing, Barr abided by the decision of the committee and was then indorsed for a renomination for clerk of courts. The committee also indorsed James M. Clark for renomination as county commissioner. This filled the three places the Citizens have granted the Democrats.

"How about the prothonotaryship? Are you going to ask that a Democrat be nominated for that place, too?" was asked Mr. Brennen, the chairman of the committee.

"No, we are not asking for that place. That will be filled by the Citizens and will probably go to some labor candidate," he answered.

The Democratic and Citizens fusion committees will have a joint meeting this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Citizens headquarters.

There is a strong probability that John W. Robinson, select councilman from the Fourth ward, Allegheny, will be nominated for commissioner by the Citizens as the running mate of J. M. Clark. W. J. Brennen expressed himself favorably toward Robinson yesterday. The fusion slate will be completed this afternoon by the leaders and will be presented to the so-called Citizens county convention on June 29 for ratification.

Charles B. Price stated last evening he had not yet accepted the appointment of county commissioner, but would announce his decision today. The Republican leaders generally expect him to accept.

WILLIAM E. GIBBS COMES TO "TECH"

Well Known New York Scientist Will Be Professor of Physics.

HAS HAD MANY SUCCESSES

William Edwin Gibbs, one of the best-known physicists of the United States, who has won a reputation not only in pure science but in the successful application of the principles to commercial work, has been appointed professor of physics in the Carnegie Technical schools. The appointment was made at the "Tech" committee meeting yesterday afternoon, on nomination by Director Arthur A. Hamerschlag. The appointment will date from September 1, 1905.

Prof. Gibbs was born in New York city in 1861. He attended private schools until 1878, and entered Stevens' Institute of Technology, Hoboken, N. J., from which he was graduated in the class of '82. He received the degree of mechanical engineer from Stevens' institute in 1882. He was appointed assistant in physics and special work in the laboratories of Prof. Albert M. Mayer and Dr. Henry Morton from 1882 to 1884.

In 1884-85 he too a post-graduate course in physics, microscope and astronomy at Hobart college, Geneva, N. Y., under Prof. Hamilton L. Smith, and received the degree of bachelor of science from Hobart, with the class of 1885. During 1886-87 he was engaged in research work in his own laboratory and studied pathology, anatomy and physiology at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia university, New York city.

He began work as consulting engineer in 1888 with offices in New York, specializing in experimental mechanics, physics, chemistry and microscopic investigations.

Prof. Gibbs is known throughout eastern cities for his broad knowledge of physics, which he has applied to a great variety of practical operations. His preliminary training, received under the personal supervision of Profs. Mayer, Morton and Smith, three of the strongest physicists of their time, has given him a thorough knowledge of his subject, which cannot but be important in the development of his curriculum and the equipment of his laboratory for the Carnegie Technical schools. Prof. Gibbs' home is at Fanwood, N. J.

Co-Operative Prices

are the lowest prices known and not as the usual "low prices" created by a sacrifice of quality, but entirely by a saving of selling expenses.

The goods handled by a co-operative store are known the world over for their high standard of quality, because the shareholders of a co-operative store are also its best customers, and, therefore, being interested financially, will not permit any adulterative substitution or other methods of lowering the quality to the detriment of their future business. By dealing with a co-operative store you are assured of a large saving of money, and an absolute guarantee that the saving is not offset by a corresponding decrease of grade or quality.

BROOKLYN AGAIN GOES TO DEFEAT

Pirates Produce a Batting Rally In the Sixth and Win the Game.

WAS A PITCHERS' BATTLE

It took some speedy playing for the Pirates to take the third game of the series from the Brooklyn team at Exposition park yesterday afternoon, the score being 4 to 2. There was a crowd of 1,780 out to watch the contest, and they were treated to a pitchers' battle in which Deacon Phillippe had the shade.

McIntyre was the Manion selection for the afternoon and that young man pitched like a veteran to all but the sixth inning, when he was given a pretty lively bumping. But had his support been of the best he would have been saved in that inning for a misjudge of a fly by Dobbs was the starting point of all the trouble. It was on a drive by Tommy Leach and the Brooklyn outfielder allowed the ball to get away from him and it counted for a three-base hit, bringing Wagner home with the run that tied the score.

The game was a pretty one to look at, as it was filled with fast plays on both sides. The pitchers were hit hard enough to give the other players a chance to display their ability, and this made the fielding plays numerous and fast. The only misplay on either side was made by Wagner in the very first batter of the afternoon, but it was not costly, as the runner was caught at second a moment later. The infields of both teams were kept very busy and some pretty plays were turned up.

The Pirates were the first to get away with a score. Howard bringing in the tally in the second inning. Howard led off with a single to right, went to second on a sacrifice by Clancy and scored on a timely single by Peitz. The visitors got that run back and one more with it in their half of the fifth. A base on balls to Babb started the trouble. Bergen followed with a single to right and McIntyre advanced the runners with a neat sacrifice. Dobbs then singled to right, scoring both runs, but he was caught trying to make second base on the hit. That ended the Brooklyn's scoring.

The Pirates were one to the bad until the sixth inning was reached and Beaumont started that inning by going out on a fly to Dobbs. Wagner came to the rescue with a two-base drive to right and Leach followed with a drive to deep middle which Dobbs misjudged and Wagner scored the tieing run. Tommy reached third on the hit and scored on a drive against the right field fence by Howard. The umpire was at first inclined to call the hit a foul, but soon saw his mistake and waved the base-runners to go ahead. Leach scored on the hit and Howard, who reached third, counted on Clancy's hit at first.

The Brooklyn players vigorously protested the umpire's ruling on Howard's hit, but in this they were wrong. The right foul line at Exposition park ends just at the end of the bleachers and had the ball been foul it would have dropped in the bleachers instead of on the playing field as it did. The pitching on both sides was first-class in every particular, as was shown in two instances. In the third inning the visitors had the bases filled and a hit of any kind meant one or more runs, but Phillippe buckled down to business and struck the third man out. In the Pirates' half of the fifth inning McIntyre struck the side out, his victims being Peitz, Phillippe and Clarke. McIntyre had seven strikeouts to his credit during the game. The score:

Tarrasch Now in the Lead.

OSTEND, BELGIUM, June 21.—Two games, left unfinished on previous rounds of the international chess match, namely, those between Teichmann and Burn from the fourth round and Janowski and Marco from the sixth round, were continued today, all the rest of the competitors having a day off. The first named contest was drawn after a few additional moves had been made this morning, while Janowski and Marco were still fighting, the former, though, in a rather hopeless position. During the adjournment Janowski stated that he would resign his game with Marco and the game was scored accordingly. Tarrasch, therefore, now leads Janowski and Marco with half a point, Leon Hardt with one point and Alapin Marco, Marshall, Schlechter, Teychmann and Wolf with 1½ points, the latter having each scored ½ half point.

PRINCE FREDERICK BEATEN.

His Yacht Finished Third in Races Among Small Boats—Many Americans on Hand.

IMPERIAL YACHT CLUB, KIEL, GERMANY, June 21.—Prince Eitel Frederick sailed his new 20-footer Elizabeth in the first race at the Kiel regatta today and came in third among its competitors. Wansee V., owned by the Wansee Boat club, and sailed by Otto Protzen, crossed the finish line first 26 seconds ahead of the prince's boat. The George, owned by the Berlin Yacht club, was second, being 69 seconds ahead of the Elizabeth. The winner's time over the mile course was 2 hours 34 minutes 35.7 seconds.

Other races for small yachts and a competition between men of war gigs, pinaces and cutters also took place today.

The American yacht Nahma, with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goelet on board; the Uiowana, with Allison V. Armour and Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Mott, and the Atlantic, with F. M. Hoyt, L. B. Ostrander and C. B. Seley, have arrived here. Prince Henry of Prussia visited Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt on board the North Star today.

The Imperial yacht Hohenzollern, with Emperor William on board, is anchored off the yacht club. There are 40 ships and 100 yachts large and small, in the bay this evening, making a beautiful water scene.

RACERS GO FAST MILES.

Matinee Performers at Brunots Island Show Clever Workouts and Are Almost on Edge.

Light harness horsemen who were attracted by the fast mile of J. G. Bennett's Frank Wilson on Saturday last, when he paced a mile in 2:11, and also of Robin C., in 2:13¾, the fastest matinee miles of the year in the entire country in trotting and pacing, will not be surprised to learn that Terrace Queen (2:06) paced in a workout of the week for Dave McDonald the last quarter of a slow mile in :29½. This is the fastest work at the track this year.

Bert Webster stepped Billie Buch in 2:12 and Golden Rule in 2:12. Trainer William Weigle sent Mary D. (2:10¾) a mile in 2:12¾, with the last half in 1:04¾. Blix (2:18¾) stepped a final quarter in :31.

In Dave G. McDonald's string the pacing mare Sweet Marie (2:11¼) stepped a half in 1:04¼. Harvey C. had a half in 1:09 and Maj. Wilton a quarter in 31 seconds.

Some runners have been added to the McDonald stables. A running race at each matinee will soon be a feature of the Saturday afternoon events at Brunots island.

Braddock Side of Story.

Don McKim, manager of the Braddock team, writes The Gazette the following self-explanatory letter:

In answer to a statement made by the McKeesport baseball team in the Pittsburgh papers I would beg to state that McKeesport left the Braddock park without questioning the umpire's decision. They did not wait for the guarantee to be paid for the playing of the game. They have reported through the Pittsburgh papers that all games are canceled between Braddock and McKeesport without informing the Braddock team by mail or person, which is required by the Protective Association of Independent Baseball clubs.

WABASH MAKES AN INNOVATION

Will Run Cafe-Observation Car on Night Train—Panhandle Earnings.

PITTSBURGHER IS HONORED

Announcement is made by the passenger department of the Wabash Pittsburgh Terminal railway of important changes in through and Wheeling trains, to be made next Sunday. Train No. 15, which now leaves Pittsburgh at 1 o'clock p. m., city time, will be known as train No. 3 and will leave at 9:30 o'clock a. m., city time. In addition to through service to St. Louis, Kansas City and other western points this train will connect directly with trains at Toledo for Michigan points. Train No. 19 will be known as No. 9 and will leave Pittsburgh at 7:30 o'clock p. m., instead of 8 p. m. as at present. In addition to its present equipment it will carry a free reclining chair car to Chicago, as well as a cafe observation car from Pittsburgh to Massillon. This carrying of a cafe observation car on a night train is an innovation, but the Wabash has found that patrons are desirous not only of a pleasant general assembly room, such as the observation room gives, but also of something to eat shortly before retiring.

The patronage from Pittsburgh to Wheeling on Sundays has grown to such an extent that it has been found necessary to add a special Sunday train, returning from Wheeling at 8:30 o'clock p. m. This will bring the patrons into Pittsburgh in good time for a Sunday night rest. The daily morning train from Pittsburgh to Wheeling will leave at 8 o'clock instead of 7:20, and the afternoon train will leave here at 5 o'clock instead of 5:20. Both of these trains carry cafe cars, serving meals a la carte. The evening train from Wheeling to Pittsburgh will leave there at 7:30 o'clock, instead of 5:30.

Wagner, Pennsylvania railroad, East Liberty. Some of these men were accompanied by their wives and made side trips to points of interest. Those who have returned report one of the most pleasant conventions they ever attended. On Friday the 300 agents and 150 women were entertained by the St. Paul association with rides about the city and on Lake Minnetonka. The next meeting will be held at Montreal next June. A. D. Over of the C. & N. W. railway and vice president of the Chicago association, was elected president of the American association, and G. W. AMONG THE CLUBS

Addition to Kingsley House.

Ground will be broken July 1 for an addition to Kingsley house in Fulton street and Bedford avenue, Herron Hill. It will consist of two wings and will cost $35,000. The character of the work which Kingsley house has been doing since it moved into its present home demands more room. The two new wings will afford opportunity for additional gymnasium work and more manual training, especially in industrial lines, while a large hall for meetings, entertainments and lectures will contribute a great deal to the excellent equipment which Kingsley House has secured since its establishment a decade ago. The wings will be constructed like the rest of the building—of brick—and will be uniform in appearance. They will each cover a ground space of 48x35 feet and will be three stories in height. One wing will contain on the first floor a series of baths, above them being a two-story gymnasium, bright and airy with high windows on three sides. The other wing will contain a manual training department on the first floor, a large assembly hall on the second and the third will be given up to resident rooms. William R. Matthews, the head resident, is anxious that the work may be accomplished so that the winter class work may begin early in the season as early as October, if possible. The old porch will be torn down and in its place will be another reaching across the entire building, including the new wings. The adding of baths to the equipment of Kingsley House meets a need which is left no where to a greater extent than on Herron Hill, where are to be found some of the most crowded tenement districts in any city. The Peacock baths, presented several years ago to the Columbian Council school by Alexander R. Peacock, are the only public baths in the district. The children who have been down at Lillyian house in Valencia, the summer home of Kingsley House, bring back glowing reports of the vacation days they have been spending. In the party which is there now, having gone down only last week, are 34 children from the Ridge avenue orphan asylum, Allegheny. They will stay until July 1, when the first party of school children will be taken to Lillian house for two weeks.

Miss Baumgarten Resigns.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Columbian Council school in Center avenue yesterday, Miss Yetta Baumgarten, the head resident of the school, presented her resignation, to take effect in October. The resignation was accepted with much regret. Miss Baumgarten by her executive ability and tact having enlarged the scope of the work of the social settlement, at the same time placing its various departments on a strong working basis. No application for the position was considered, but in a few days the directors hope to be able to announce their plans for the coming year. The meeting followed the kindergarten exercises, which were conducted in the morning. Addresses were made by the Rev. J. H. McIlvaine and Dr. J. Leonard Levy. There were drills, songs and games by the children, which were well conducted, considering the short time the school has been open. Miss Jessie Kerr is the director. The school was opened in May and is the result of a gift of $1,000 from Mr. and Mrs. M. Oppenheimer in memory of their daughter, Nannie Oppenheimer. Luncheon was served between the morning exercises and the meeting of the directors in the afternoon.

Work in Hot Weather.

The Children's Aid Society of Allegheny county has not found its work greatly increased by the sultry days of the past week. There are now 166 children under its care, the number being almost the same summer and winter. During the past year, however, it took under its protection more than during any previous year, the number being 94. Since June 1 there have been 10 applicants received, but only two children were taken up by the society. Of the 166 at present cared for eight are receiving wages, eight are in boarding homes, four in hospitals and 130 in private homes. The last are the smaller children and of the four who are in hospitals, one is an inmate of the Institution for the Feeble Minded in Polk.

Planning an Effective Committee.

William H. Matthews has called a meeting for this afternoon for organization of the committee of men appointed to consider better tenement conditions in Pittsburgh. The committee of five will be augmented by the presence of the other committee of three appointed to study local conditions, determine the advisability of having more tenement house inspectors and other phases of a vigorous prosecution of tenement house reform. The larger committee appointed to consider the advisability of having a permanent tenement house commission and the raising of funds for the employment of a secretary, is composed of W. H. Matthews, Edward J. Lloyd, William H. Stevenson, Dr. Daniel Dorchester, Jr., and Bishop Canevin. At a meeting last week this committee thought the work of tenement house reform could be done more effectively by combining the two committees, and so invited the smaller committee of three, Dr. Edward B. Heckel, E. L. Mattern and Dr. J. Leonard Levy, to meet with it this afternoon. The combined committee will today consider the advisability of further increasing its number to 15.

Considered Five Applicants.

Five applications for probation officer were considered yesterday afternoon at the special meeting of the executive board of the Juvenile Court Aid society. The board is not ready yet to make its decision, but will hold another meeting within a week, when announcement of a probation officer will be made.

Last Meeting of the Joint Committee.

An important meeting of the joint committee of Women's clubs for Pittsburgh summer playgrounds and vacation schools will be held this morning in the Twentieth Century club. It will be the last regular meeting before the opening of the playgrounds on Wednesday, July 5.

THREE SISTERS WILL BE MARRIED AT SAME MASS

Licenses for Triple Wedding Are the First to Be Issued in Two Years.

For the first time in two years Herman L. Hegner, marriage license clerk at the court house, was yesterday called upon to issue licenses for a triple wedding. The weddings will be solemnized in St. Canice's Catholic church, Knoxville, and besides being the first triple wedding to take place in the church, will also be the first ceremony of the kind ever performed by the officiating clergyman, the Rev. Father D. J. Gallagher.

The brides are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William McBride of 22 Knox avenue, Knoxville. The contracting parties are Frank J. Rourke of 1319 Sycamore street, Mt. Washington, and Miss Esther Victoria McBride; Louis C. Murray of Homestead and Miss Emma Yourell McBride; Philip J. Rodgers of Knoxville and Miss Agnes Gertrude McBride. The triple wedding will take place at 7:30 o'clock this morning during a nuptial mass.

Mrs. James P. Murto, another daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McBride, and Mr. Murto will witness the marriage of Miss Agnes Gertrude McBride and Mr. Rodgers. Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers will then act as witnesses to the second ceremony and the principals in the second will witness the marriage of the third couple. After the church services a wedding breakfast will be served at the McBride home with only members of the families present. The young people will then go east and will spend their honeymoons together. The young men have been close friends for many years. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Murray will be at home to their friends in Homestead while Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers and Mr. and Mrs. Rourke will reside in Knoxville.

Reduce Sergeant to Ranks.

Police Sergeant James Fallon was yesterday reduced to patrolman at a meeting of the police trial board on a charge of neglect of duty. John Doran, superintendent of the safety building, and Robert Jennings, a bootblack, were arraigned for disorderly conduct. Both were exonerated. John McRoberts, who was on the force 23 years and recently resigned, yesterday withdrew his resignation and will report for duty again.

ANOTHER SLIGHT FOR NICEWANER

Supt. Burk Is Placed in Charge of Shingiss Street Sewer Repairs.

Director Bigelow has put another slight upon Superintendent E. G. Nicewaner of the bureau of highways and sewers. In draining the broken Shingiss street sewer to permit repairs to be made Director Bigelow took the matter out of the hands of Superintendent Nicewaner and placed it under the management of Superintendent A. B. Shepherd. Superintendent Shepherd performed his part of the work satisfactorily and the sewer was opend sufficiently that workmen could repair the break.

Then instead of placing Superintendent Nicewaner in charge Director Bigelow has appointed Superintendent A. W. Burk of the bureau of construction to supervise the work. Superintendent Burk has been directing the repairs of the sewer since Saturday. The repair of sewers belongs to Superintendent Nicewaner's bureau, and construction of new sewers to Superintendent Burk's bureau. In the present instance Superintendent Nicewaner is not consulted by the director and the whole job is out of his hands.

Since a large amount of the debris in the sewer has been removed progress is being made on the repairs. Although the sewer is six feet in diameter, the walls are only eight inches thick and are not strong enough to sustain much pressure from street traffic. An extra lining of brick will be put in the sewer and an appropriation will probably be made next year to reconstruct a large part of the sewer, at least through the immediate district where such heavy damage was caused by the recent break.

The large sewer in Garrison alley, between Eighth and Ninth streets and extending from Liberty avenue to the Allegheny river, is in nearly as bad a condition as the Shingiss street sewer and it is to be rebuilt. The contract will be let in a few days. Many of the sewers in the downtown section were constructed 40 years ago, and city engineers state they are liable to cave in at any time. Director Bigelow has proposed an entire new sewer system downtown and prepared plans, but the administration cut out this item in the appropriations this year in order to keep down the tax levy.

The developments in the Shingiss street sewer and the constant danger to property that is said to exist from other sewers in a like condition is expected to cause an appropriation of at least $150,000 to be made next year. The bill for the repairs to the Shingiss street sewer promises to be a large one, as the contractor has had a big force of men at work steadily since the break occurred. Contractor James H. McQuade has the job, and when he completes it he will present his bill to councils for payment.

"The Mikado" Next Week.

This morning the advance sale of seats opens for the engagement next week at the Nixon theater of the Japanese opera, "The Mikado," which will be given an elaborate production by the W. T. Carleton opera company. The military comic opera, "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," which has been drawing such immense audiences to the Nixon theater since the opening of the summer season, will terminate on next Saturday evening one of the most successful engagements at that house for a long time.

BIG ADDITION TO HOTEL LINCOLN

A. L. Richmond, Jr., Will Add Three More Stories at Cost of $75,000.

SOUTH SIDE PURCHASE

Three more stories are to be added to the Hotel Lincoln to make it a 12-story structure. This announcement is in harmony with the policy of A. L. Richmond, Jr., who bought the property about May 1 for $375,000, improving the hotel so that it would be one of the finest hosteleries in the state. Plans for the improvements are being prepared by Architect H. Charles Hodgen and the work will cost at least $75,000. The exterior of the addition will be very similar to that of the present building, the walls to be of pressed brick with terra cotta trimmings. The hotel is nine stories high now, and contains 185 rooms. With the addition it will have 187 rooms. The entire building is being overhauled thoroughly, including painting, papering and frescoing, and the rooms are being refurnished at a cost of $75,000. George Schmidt is the present landlord.

Good South Side Deal.

George H. Wellinger has sold to George Englert his property at the southeast corner of Twenty-seventh and Carson streets, South Side, for about $28,000. The buyer has occupied the two-story brick building on the front of the lot for some time as a liquor store and will remodel the building for the same purpose. A brick house stands on the rear of the lot. This property adjoins the West building, which was sold recently through the office of Keck, Heite & Daschbach to Alexander Gordon for $25,000 and the sale makes the third large deal in Carson street property since April, the other being the sale of the hotel at Carson and Twenty-second streets for $65,000.

Through the agency of George Brothers, S. W. Black has sold to J. Bissell Speer of the brokerage firm of Speer Brothers a modern 12-room brick house in Edgeworth borough for $17,000. The residence stands on 142x150 feet, facing in Maple lane, about half way between Edgeworth and Shields stations on the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railroad. The buyer has occupied the place some time as a tenant and made the purchase for a home.

500 Acres of Coal Sold.

The Freehold Real Estate Company yesterday sold to J. H. Weaver & Co. of Philadelphia 500 acres of coal at Cameron's Bottoms in Indiana county. The property formerly belonged to the Franciscan order and was sold through the Right Rev. Regis Canevin, trustee. It is reached by a spur of the Pennsylvania railroad and a branch of the New York Central railroad. The coal consists of two veins, one of four and the other of six feet, and is the best tract sold in that district for a long time. The purchasing company owns 10,000 acres of coal adjacent and will at once open a mine and spend $45,000 in getting ready to develop the property. The coal was sold for 9 cents a ton.

Through the Aronson Realty Company Daniel Edwards has sold to Jacob Feinberg 46 Arthur street, near Wylie avenue, Eleventh ward, for $25,000. There is a four-story brick apartment house containing 50 rooms on the lot, which measures 24x141 feet. The rental is about $4,000 a year.

Harry Davis has leased the first floor and basement of the building at 425 Smithfield street to M. Rosenthal through the agency of the Samuel W. Black Company. This is one of the storerooms in the Howard block, which Mr. Davis leased last year for 20 years. Mr. Rosenthal will remodel the rooms and occupy them with a jewelry store, paying $6,000 a year rent for four years. He has sublet the basement to Isaac Hohenstein for a shoe store.

Profitable Deal for Church.

The sale of the old Asbury Methodist Episcopal church in Fifth avenue, opposite Magee street, for $150,000, detailed in another column, adds another to the profitable deals which Pittsburgh congregations have made within the past three years. The property has risen steadily in value and is worth today probably $50,000 more than it was two years ago. A tempting offer has been made for another church property in outer Fifth avenue, and a deal may be closed for it today.

The La Belle View Land Company is taking bids on 10 eight-room brick houses which it will build on its big allotment in Steubenville, O. The company owns the Third and Fifth wards of the town and has sold 32 lots from its plan this summer. Since last fall it has built 40 houses on the plan, but one of which have been sold. The houses to be built now will cost about $4,000 each and will be near the street car line which runs through the property from Steubenville out the state road about three miles.

E. E. Tomlaugh, F. G. Stieren, Walter D. Green, William G. Green and John H. Leonard have applied for a charter for the Mount Lebanon Improvement Company. Mr. Tomlaugh laid out a fine plan of lots back of the Mount Lebanon church two years ago, and has sold most of them. The company expects to do considerable building later on.

Bennett Levy, formerly an employe of the Aronson Realty Company, has accepted a position with the Aronson-Friedman company.

SOCIETY

PROBABLY no event of the summer season will create more interest in Oakmont society than did the wedding of Miss Margaret Virginia Tiers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence P. Tiers and William Hepburn Tinsman, which occurred in the Oakmont Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock last evening. The pastor of the church, the Rev. George W. Montgomery, officiated. The bridal party included Miss Martha Foresman of Williamsport, as maid of honor; Miss Susan Tiers, Miss Mary Lee Paul, both of Oakmont; Miss Grace Runnette of the East End, and Miss Mary Argersinger of Johnstown, N. Y., as bridesmaids. Mr. Tinsman's best man was Dr. Edward Lyon of Williamsport, which place was the former home of the bridegroom; as ushers there were Harry Bubb, Henry C. Parsons, James Watterson and John McCormick, all of Williamsport; and Herbert Tiers and Clarence F. Tiers, cousin and brother of the bride. The gowning of the bridal party was particularly beautiful and added much to the general charm of the wedding. The bride wore a toilette of white chiffon cloth exquisitely trimmed with rose point lace. A spray of orange blossoms caught and fastened the long tulle veil and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her only ornament was Mr. Tinsman's gift, a pearl and diamond pin. Miss Foresman wore a valenciennes lace robe and carried a cluster of pink roses, while the bridesmaids, each in a bewitchingly dainty frock of white net over pink flowered organdie, had bouquets of white sweet peas. A reception and wedding supper followed the ceremony. Late in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Tinsman left for an eastern trip. They have made no plans as to where they will ultimately make their home, but the summer will be spent in Williamsport.

Hoyt-Wilson.

Miss Anita Converse Hoyt at her wedding to John A. Wilson, Jr., last evening wore a gown of white marquisette and a tulle veil, which was fastened with orange blossoms once worn by her mother. The bride carried a handkerchief which had also been a part of her mother's wedding toilette. The Hoyt-Wilson wedding took place last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Hoyt, in Mellon street, the Rev. Dr. Charles P. Chesseman performing the ceremony at 7:30 o'clock. The matron of honor was Mrs. Harry Gibson Blaier, who wore pale green mousseline and carried a shower of white sweet peas. Mrs. Louise Willard Lyons, as bridesmatron, appeared in her wedding gown and carried a shower of maidenhair ferns tied with green chiffon. Each of the bridesmaids, Miss Ruth Isabel Wilson and Miss Lana Belle of Tucson, Ariz., were in white batiste and lace, their flowers being white sweet peas showered on strands of green chiffon. Golf, Luncheon and Music.

A combination of music and golf composes the unique program prepared by John C. Leitch for the garden musicale to be given by him in honor of Miss Florence Wickham, the Beaver contralto who has won fame in grand opera. The invitations are for 5:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Brighton Country club, Allegheny. The time is fixed just long enough before 6 o'clock to obviate the necessity of the men appearing in full dress, the idea being to make the affair summery and informal. The invitations have been issued only to men and women who are recognized musicians of the city, musical organization and choir in Allegheny county will be represented. The affair will open with a golf game in which the participants will be David Baxter, Ellsworth Giles, R. L. James and George Ormiston. This will be followed by an al fresco luncheon. MANION EARNING MEDAL.

Officer on Guard at Lock No. 1 Saves Two More Boys from Drowning.

Policeman Patrick Manion, employed as a lifeguard at lock No. 1, yesterday saved two boys from drowning. They were Paul Harris, aged 18, a negro, of Fourth avenue and Grant street, and Arthur Rubenstein, aged 14, of No. 159 Fulton street. The boys jumped off a barge moored out on the river and started to swim to shore. Harris was just ahead of Rubenstein. The latter became weak and to prevent himself from sinking caught hold of Harris' shoulder.

Both boys went under. Officer Manion was in his boat and jumped overboard after the boys. They had gone down twice when he caught Harris by the hair. Rubenstein was clinging to the colored boy's body. The water was about five feet deep and the officer carried both boys ashore.

They were partly unconscious, but were soon revived. The officer said there were 400 boys and men swimming at the lock when the accident took place.

Builders May Form Social Club.

About 200 members of the Builders' exchange league took lunch together yesterday at League headquarters, Penn avenue and Eighth street. President Samuel Francies was master of ceremonies during the informal talks which followed the luncheon. It was proposed that the members of the league form themselves into a social club. No definite steps were taken yesterday, but it is probable another meeting will be held before long to take action on the matter.

Edgar Thomson council No. 512, Royal Arcanum, of Braddock, met last night and passed resolutions protesting against the new schedule of rates. A copy of the resolutions were forwarded to the supreme council.

IS IT ANY WONDER

That Malta-Vita Melts in Your Mouth and Satisfies as No Other Food Can?

Do you know why Malta-Vita is so delicious, so crisp, so sweet? Do you know why it is the most satisfying and healthful in the world.

Because—

Malta-Vita is made from the best white wheat.

Before the process of manufacture begins, the wheat is cleaned and scoured and the dust and refuse are drawn out of the big factory by suction, leaving it as fresh and pure as your own kitchen.

The grain is thoroughly cooked in water and steam and matured in fresh, pure air. By this time the starch in the wheat has been gelatinized, or, in other words, has lost all its indigestible characteristics.

Now the wheat is mixed with the highest quality of malt extract and this malt extract, a most active digestive agent, converts the gelatinized starch into malt sugar. You understand, of course, that malt sugar, (maltose), in which Malta-Vita is always so rich, is of wonderful food value, very strengthening and easily digested. It makes the digestion of the crisp flaked wheat an easy task, too, even for the weakest stomach.

Malta-Vita is baked under such intense heat that when it comes out of the ovens, its crisp brown flakes are delicious beyond description. It contains only a little more than 1 per cent of moisture.

Do you wonder now why it melts in your mouth?

And here is another thought.

Throughout the entire process of manufacture Malta-Vita is practically untouched by human hands. Machinery—clean, shining machinery—conveys it through all the changes, even to the filling and sealing of the air-tight, moisture-proof packages.

Malta-Vita is the perfect food for old and young, weak or strong. For the run-down or overworked digestive organs it is a godsend. It makes red blood, refreshes the brain and the nerves, builds up bone and muscle. It is so satisfying and healthful that a no-home should be without it.

Malta-Vita is 10 cents at all grocers—same high quality, same big package as when it sold for 15c.

STOCK MARKETS BUOYANT, IMDUSTRIALS LEADING

Reading Placed Upon a Four Per Cent Basis, and the Pennsylvania Group Was Strong—Decline in Coal Stocks in Pittsburgh.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The New York stock market yesterday was buoyant and nearly everything on the list closed higher, but the industrials were the strongest. The sales for the first hour amounted to 269,000 shares, or 6,000 shares more than for the five-hour session of the same day last week. The total for the day was slightly in excess of 900,000 shares, and there is little doubt that the million-share mark would have been passed but for the announcement early in the afternoon of the closing of the doors of the City Trust, Safe Deposit and Surety Company of Philadelphia. This incident checked the buoyancy of the market and curtailed operations to some extent.

The change in sentiment was very pronounced and did not seem to have any other basis than that which has been apparent for more than a week, namely, the absence of stock for sale, the maintenance of railroad earnings, and the good crop prospects. The strength of United States Steel was a notable feature of the market, and had a decided effect upon sentiment. The common stock rose to 30 and the preferred to 98, and they closed at net advances of 1 and 1⅜ per cent respectively. The sinking fund bonds closed ⅝ per cent higher. The minor iron and steel stocks closed ¼ to 2¼ per cent higher, and the car equipment shares were more active than for several weeks.

There was some irregularity in the dealings of Reading during the early part of the day, and as the price fluctuated various rumors were circulated to account for the movements. One of these rumors was that the semi-annual dividend would remain unchanged, and another, which received little or no attention, was that the rate would be jumped to 2½ per cent. What the directors did do was what has been foreshadowed for weeks past. They increased the rate to 2 per cent semi-annual, thus placing the stock on a 4 per cent basis. When the announcement was made the stock reacted 1 per cent from 87 to 86, the net gain for the day being ⅝ per cent.

Pennsylvania was one of the strongest of the railroads, because it will indirectly benefit from the increased Reading dividend. The latter will add to the income of Baltimore & Ohio, which is a large holder of Reading stock, and will increase the probability of a larger dividend on Baltimore & Ohio common stock next month. Pennsylvania is a large holder of Baltimore & Ohio and its income will be increased. Pennsylvania closed at a net gain of 1⅛ per cent. Ontario & Western directors declared a semi-annual dividend of 1¼ per cent, which met expectations, and the stock advanced to 53, but later reacted to 51⅞, and closed with a net gain of 1 per cent.

Illinois Central was the strongest of the granger stocks and advanced to 166¼, closing with an advance of 2¼ per cent. There is some expectation that this stock will be placed upon a 7 per cent basis, if the corn crop turns out well. Stocks like Union Pacific, St. Paul and Atchison were strong at times during the day, but they closed either unchanged or at insignificant net gains. Directors of Southern Pacific declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 3½ per cent on the preferred stock, but this action was without particular effect marketwise.

The tractions were again active and higher. Metropolitan advancing to 126⅜, and Brooklyn Rapid Transit to 67¼, and each closed ⅛ per cent higher for the day.

The money market remained easy and unchanged, call loans closing at 2 to 2½ per cent.

With the exception of the coal stocks and Sewer Pipe the local market was firm and higher. Pittsburgh Coal common declined to and closed at 16¼ and the preferred lost ½ per cent, selling off to 72½. River Coal preferred broke 2½ points to 25 on the marketing of less than 100 shares. American Sewer Pipe declined to and closed at 35¼. All the steel stocks were strong and higher. Crucible common advanced to and closed at 10½, and the preferred advanced to 62¾, but later lost nearly all the gain. The United States Steel issues closed strong and 1¼ to 1⅜ per cent higher. The Brewing issues were moderately active and closed fractionally higher. There were no transactions in any of the Westinghouse stocks, which closed steady to firm. Air Brake recovering to 144 bid.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH

Stock market fairly active and prices averaged higher.

Pittsburgh Coal common declined to 16¼ and the preferred to 72½.

River Coal preferred broke to 25 on the marketing of less than 100 shares.

American Sewer Pipe declined to and closed at 35¼.

All the steel stocks strong and closed higher.

IN WALL STREET

Stock market active and buoyant, prices closing higher all around.

Sales included 901,700 shares stock and $4,240,000 bonds.

Iron and steel stocks were the strongest and scored the largest gains.

Dividend on Reading common increased to a 4 per cent basis.

The Pennsylvania group the strongest of the railroad list.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Another dividend promise was made good yesterday when the Reading directors increased the semi-annual rate on the common from 1½ to 2 per cent, thus placing the stock on a 4 per cent basis. The stock yesterday sold at exactly double the highest price quoted a year ago this month, and at more than six times the price quoted in 1900. Doubtless there are other railroad and industrial stocks which will do relatively as well in the next five years, because the development of this country is going on at a rate never before equaled, and this development rapidly corrects the evil of over-capitalization where the management is able and honest. Reading is now estimated to be earning about 10 per cent on the common stock, but on a 4 per cent basis the current price is probably high enough, because the coal business is subject to wide fluctuations, and it is only good financiering to fortify a property in good years against the possibilities of bad years.

The early movement in Wall street yesterday centered very largely in specialties and United States Steel preferred made an effective leader. Reports of large orders for Russian naval reconstruction were current and something was made of the published denial by ex-President Schwab of an intention to combine a number of independent corporations to compete with the United States Steel Corporation.

The joint purchase by the Long Island railroad and the Interborough Rapid Transit Company of a system of electric railroads on Long Island was made the basis for conjecture of community amongst local traction interests, deduced from the fact of the former corporation of Pennsylvania railroad interests with the Metropolitan street railway.

Doubtful factors which were ignored by Wall street during the days when crop damage reports, a reduction in the price of refined sugar, passing of the dividend on Corn Products, and declaration of the regular dividend on Lehigh Valley instead of a hoped-for increase and the discovery of fraudulent raising of stock certificates in Philadelphia. Any one of these incidents would have unsettled the market at any time in the recent past. The closing of a trust company in Philadelphia, announced late in the day, had a disturbing effect. The Ontario & Western dividend disappointed speculative hopes.

The report submitted this week at the annual meeting of the directors of the Home Trust Company of Pittsburgh showed an encouraging increase over the year preceding. The chief business of the meeting was an election of officers. The only change was the election of H. R. Fealty as vice president in place of F. T. F. Lovejoy.

The Iron City Trust Company has declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent, payable July 1, to stock of record July 10.

The semi-annual dividend of 3½ per cent declared on Southern Pacific preferred is payable July 17, to stock of record June 28.

Lehigh Valley declared the usual semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent and Ontario & Western 1½ per cent.

On the Pittsburgh stock exchange the largest individual transaction was 500 shares Pennsylvania railroad, Wettengel to Masten & Co.

Corn Products preferred dropped 4¼ per cent on the passage of the dividend.

Union Steel bonds were quoted on the Pittsburgh board at 97¾ and interest bid.

The city of Boston this week awarded $3,900,000 3½ per cent bonds at 100.217. According to many of the presidents of the savings banks of New York city, it is probable that the dividends of 4 per cent paid to savings bank depositors will be reduced to at least 3½ per cent unless the tax on the surplus of savings banks is repealed at the special session of the legislature called to meet today. The 4 per cent rate will be paid in July and the reduction will be effective at the next interest period in January. The saving banks of New York city are in heavy competition with the trust companies and a reduction of the interest will probably divert a great deal of savings bank business to the trust companies.

Wall street credited Pittsburgh with large buying of the United States steel stocks.

There were strong bull tips on Metropolitan Street Railway, Republic Steel, Tennessee Coal and Iron and Sloss-Sheffield.

The present estimates of the net earnings of the United States Corporation for the quarter ending June 30 are $21,200,000. This compares with $16,490,725 in 1904, $26,642,308 in 1903 and $37,662,058 in 1902.

One of the bull arguments on Pennsylvania Railroad stock is the syndicate holdings of the recent issue of $100,000,000 3½s. They stand the syndicate near 98, and to make a fair profit they ought to get par or better for them. To make the bonds attractive, it is contended, the stock must be put up near the point at which the bonds are convertible (1.60). As without this feature there are other Pennsylvania Company 3½ per cent issues, guaranteed by the Pennsylvania railroad, for instance, which are fully as attractive and can be bought on a cheaper basis.

In New York yesterday transactions for foreign account aggregated about 40,000 shares, of which 30,000 shares were purchases made in the first hour. London market bought fully 15,000 shares of Steel during the day.

There was a good demand for Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania in the loan crowd, indicating quite a short interest.

Gross earnings of Southern Railway for the second week in June increased $83,066. Louisville & Nashville for the same week increased $48,620.

The Colonial Trust Company announces that the Independent Brewing Company's bonds are now ready for delivery and will be delivered upon presentation of the temporary receipts. The first coupon is due July 1 and is for $23 34, being at the rate of 6 per cent interest from February 9. Thereafter the coupons will be for $30 each.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, June 21.—The market for coffee futures opened steady with prices unchanged to 5 points higher and sold about 5@10 points net higher on a demand from Europe which promptly absorbed the offerings of tired longs. Following a later cable reporting full receipts of 85 at Pauto for the day, which was somewhat in excess of the news of yesterday as to a settlement of the strike, prices reacted to a partial decline of 5 points, but rallied again just before the close on a renewal of European buying. The market was finally steady net 5 points higher. Sales were reported of 29,750 bags, including July at 6.10c; August at 6.30@6.35c; September at 6.40@6.45c; December at 6.85@6.75c; March at 6.50c; May at 6.55c. Money for the Fourth.

Contributions to the Pittsburgh Fourth of July fund yesterday follow: Previously reported, $1,870; J. M. Morin, $10; J. F. Mader, $15; P. V. Rovnianek & Co., $10; total, $2,005.

THE MONEY MARKET.

The local money market is steady to firm 2@6 per cent on call and time loans. The supply of funds is unevenly distributed, and there has been some calling of loans this week. Clearing house comparisons:

Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, June 21.—Rates for money and discounts were easy in the market today. Operators on the stock exchange were fairly cheerful, owing to the money outlook and the absence of disquieting political reports. Later prices hardened in places, but trading generally was inactive. Consols and home rails improved. Americans opened firm and advanced a fraction, but there was no increase in business. Philadelphia and Reading were comparatively neglected, pending the dividend announcement. After some reactions stocks closed easy. Russian and Japanese securities were weak. Imperial Japanese government of 1904 were quoted at 89½. Consols for money, 90¼; console for account, 90 5-16. Bar silver firm at 27¼d per ounce. Money, 1@1¼ per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for short and three-months' bills is 1 15-16@2 per cent.

PARIS, June 21.—Trading on the bourse today displayed favorable dispositions throughout. Russian imperial 4s were quoted at 85.60 and Russian bonds of 1894 at 102. Three per cent rentes, 98 francs 52½ centimes for the account. Exchange on London, 25 francs 16½ centimes for checks.

BERLIN, June 21.—Business on the bourse today was very quiet. Prices were scarcely changed. Exchange on London, 20 marks 46½ pfgs. The rate of discount for three-months' bills is 2¾ and for short bills 3 per cent.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 21.—Trading on the bourse today continued active and prices were firm until near the close, when they gave way under rumors of a battle in Manchuria. Imperial 4s fell ⅝ of a point.

ADVANCE IN PRICES ALL ALONG THE LINE

Market Shows Decided Increase in Its Volume of Trading, but by Professionals.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 21.—The Herald this (Thursday) morning says:

"There was a decided increase in the volume of trading in the stock market yesterday, accompanied by an advance of prices all along the line. So far as could be determined there was little, if any, increase in public buying. Dealings were very largely of professional nature and much of the market's advance was due to the driving in of the short interest.

"Speculative sentiment was very much better, however, and quite a number of pools and cliques started in to make minor specialties active by 'churning' and matching stock. The revival of manipulation, even when it is largely 'laundry work,' as some of yesterday's efforts unmistakably were, is oftentimes the forerunner of an active market. One evidence of the improvement of sentiment was indicated by the fact that traders on the floor ceased gambling over the transfer tax and actually bought and sold shares. The market closed a trifle under the best.

"News developments of the day were not as a rule of importance, except as they bore upon individual properties and even in this case they had little direct influence. The increase in the Reading dividend to a 4 per cent basis apparently served little other purpose than to permit a very heavy distribution of the stock of that company, while the moderate declaration of 1½ per cent on Ontario & Western served the same purpose. The selling of these stocks was of the very best character.

"Crop and weather advices were variable, however, had little effect on the market and those interests which do not concern themselves to-day to-day weather reports spoke hopefully of crop conditions. The weekly report on iron and steel conditions reported a better feeling, but noted no important changes in the situation. The chief influencing factor in the market appeared to be the revival of professional activity.

ENTHUSIASM FOR PRESIDENT IN DRENCHING RAIN STORM

Mr. Roosevelt Delivers Addresses at Colleges in Massachusetts— Young Woman Is Arrested.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WORCESTER, MASS., June 21.—Steadily falling rain drenched the festal drapings of the city and disappointed the people of Worcester, but detracted not at all from the enthusiastic reception which was given President Roosevelt today, upon the occasion of his visit to Clark university and Holy Cross college. The president responded to the cordiality of the people by riding through the streets in an open carriage, and much of the time with head bared. The president delivered addresses both at Holy Cross and Clark university and the former institution conferred upon him the honorary degree of LL. D.

At the home of Congressman Rockwood Hoar, the president had luncheon and he departed soon afterward for Williamstown, where tomorrow he is to be given a degree by Williams college. After the president's departure, the police announced that while he was still in the city they had arrested Jennie G. Hirsch, a resident of this city, in the women's waiting room at the Union railroad station. Miss Hirsch, who is about 25 years of age, had been writing bits of verse upon the top of a handbox, which she declared was to be given to the president. A policeman's attention was called to the woman, and he removed her to the police station. Afterward she was taken home.

QUIET SEASON IN THE STEEL TRADE

Little Demand for Products and Little Pressure to Sell Mark the Market.

ABOUT 20 FURNACES ARE OUT

"Seasonably quiet" is the expression used by an official of a leading steel company yesterday in describing the condition of the iron and steel market at present.

"The activity of the market in the spring started much earlier than usual and there should be no surprise, therefore, if it has ceased off a little before the time expected in busy years," he said. "The situation is nevertheless a good one. It allows time for the adjustment of wage scales and for the repairs to furnaces, which are in bad shape from the pressure of the six months immediately preceding the start of the present stillness. There will come a change in July, strictly in accord with past experience in this business, and the year's showing will be excellent."

A similar opinion of the situation was expressed by a number of others. The pig iron market in particular was looked upon as exceedingly quiet. There are in all about 20 furnaces out, most of them on account of need for repairs. An accident to a biscoming engine at the old Shenango steel plant at New Castle caused the closing down of the furnaces at that plant. The furnaces out are said to number 12 corporation and eight independent stacks.

No changes are reported in prices in the finished lines, but the inquiries in the last week have been rather more numerous than heretofore. In pipe, sheet, tin plate and wire it is expected that there will be an early recovery.

The Hardware Market.

The hardware business continues to move along in a likely manner the rush evidently being greater than at any time this season, and the volume of orders coming in from salesmen and from the trade direct shows the tangible results of this rush and hustle. A particularly heavy business is being done on season goods on account of the sudden hot spell. Screen goods of all kinds, refrigerators, ice cream freezers, hammocks, lawnmowers and goods that are in active use at the present time are being ordered forward with all haste, stocks on many of these lines getting very low and the market being made very bare. A good solid demand continues for general lines in builders' hardware, in carpenters and Mechanics' tools, in housefurnishing goods and in general lines, including some heavy orders for nails and wire. The bicycle business also shows up remarkably well, the demand being exceedingly heavy for sundries of every kind; the demand also for bicycles is excellent. A new feature has crept into this line, that of automobile supplies, which are being handled in large quantities by the hardware trade and by dealers in bicycles and bicycle sundries. The demand for jobbing in staples continues large, and as a consequence good quantities of these goods are moving into the hands of retailers. Orders for glass are heavy, the trade demanding sizes for stocking up in view of the shutdown which has come in most factories, and which will probably come in all factories in a few days, while outside of the glass being made by the machine. Prices in this particular line are very firm, and prospects look toward increased prices. Prices in all lines are firm, no recent changes having taken place. The Bindley Hardware Company furnishes the following quotations:

Columbia pocket knives, discount, 35 per cent; Albion hatchets, discount 40 and 10 per cent; Bindley canal shovels, $6 50 per dozen; Great Western files, discount, 70 and 10 per cent; sheet iron, base $28 00, $2 25 per 100 pounds; galvanized sheet iron, discount, 70 and 10 per cent; sash weights, per ton, $27 00; window glass, first three brackets, 90 and 25 per cent off list of October 1, 1904; above third bracket, 90 and 15 per cent off list October 1, 1904; Albion sewing machines, discount, 25 per cent; blue and white enameled ware, 60 and 10 per cent; Albion hot plates, 40 per cent; Albion lanterns, 40 per cent; hay and manure forks, 60 per cent.

NEW BUSINESS LIGHT IN IRON AND STEEL TRADE

Sentiment, However, Is Reported Improved and Little Uneasiness Is Manifest In Any Quarter.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 21.—The Iron Age will say tomorrow of the iron and metal trades:

"New business has been rather light in nearly all branches of the iron and steel trades and in some of them what is virtually a deadlock between buyers and sellers continues. Yet there is little uneasiness in any quarter. On the contrary sentiment is rather improved, although there is little that is tangible in the way of new orders to justify it.

"Pig iron inquiries are a little more numerous, but the tonnage being placed is light and buyers are securing some concessions in prices. Birmingham reports sales of basic pig for western delivery aggregating 15,000 tons, but the market is easier and $12 is being shaded for No. 2 foundry. In the rail trade the Tennessee company has taken orders aggregating 55,000 tons for 1906 delivery from southern systems. The Ohio steel plant at Youngstown is about to roll rails in the place of sheet and tin plate bars.

"The tonnage of structural material, which is coming upon the market, is very satisfactory and some trouble in meeting deliveries is being experienced. Among the larger contracts placed is that for 24,000 tons for the Philadelphia Rapid Transit, which has nine sheet and tin plate bars.

"A meeting is being held today between the Amalgamated association and the independent sheet mills. The demands of the men for an advance of about 18 per cent will certainly not be granted and there is a chance for a partial suspension of work."

STEEL RAIL MILLS ARE PUSHED WITH ORDERS

Ohio Works Plant Starts After a Year's Idleness—Structural Mills Are Busy.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, June 21.—The Iron Trade Review tomorrow will say:

Owing to the heavy orders for rails placed recently the rail mill of the Ohio works at Youngstown of the Carnegie Steel Company will resume operations in July, after being idle more than a year. With this mill in operation the Steel Corporation will have all its rail mills on for the first time in more than a year. Present estimates place the total year's tonnage of rails at 2,000,000, which is considerably in excess of the estimates earlier in the year.

The Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company has for some time had sufficient rail tonnage on its books to insure operation throughout the year. The success of its openhearth rail is being emphasized by the fact that the company has very recently taken orders for a considerable additional tonnage for 1906 delivery. Southern pig iron has furnished still further evidence of weakness and $11 15, Birmingham, for No. 2 foundry is the ruling price, although some furnaces still ask $12 00, and a few transactions have been made at $11 50. These low quotations have not brought out much business.

In spite of the recent condemnation of steel ties by a prominent railroad official, the Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad has shown, by placing an order for 2,100 tons, that it has not lost faith in that substitute for wooden ties.

The demand for plates and shapes is stronger than for any other kind of finished material. The American Bridge Company has obtained the contract for 24,000 tons of steel for the elevated road of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company, and an order for 3,000 tons for the Claflin building in New York. Orders for 75,000 tons of structural material are soon to be placed in New York.

Wanted in the Home.

The want pages will tell you where to get good, reliable help—it will pay you to read them every day.

MARKET LINES ARE ALL STRONG EXCEPT FLOUR

Sugar Shows Improvement, but Wheat Makes Flour Uncertain.

Flour continued its uncertain course in the wholesale grocery market yesterday. In the forenoon it was a little firmer, owing to the high close of the wheat market the day before. As the day wore on it lost its firmness and when the wheat market closed a fraction down, flour was again in a wobbly condition. The northwestern millers are not hopeful of any improvement, but would be glad of a change, either way, if it would only let them get to work.

Sugar was strong yesterday and the prospects for an advance seem bright. Coffee was as firm as it has been for weeks and there is no uncertainty about that commodity.

Green goods, produce and fruit all enjoyed a good trade yesterday. Strawberries showed no change, but were plentiful. Blackberries were plentiful and the receipts of dewberries were sufficient to break the price a half dollar on the crate. Raspberries are cheap, but there were no other changes yesterday, the market holding quite firm in all lines.

Butter continues firm and eggs are much easier. This is the first sign of a break in the egg market. The setting hens and the packers have contributed to keep up the price. Packers are about through and hens are nearing the end of their hatching labors, which probably accounts for the easier feeling in eggs. Cheese is firm at the higher prices.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania lines, 10½ cars hay, 14½ cars oats, 3½ cars straw, 5½ cars corn; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 2 cars oats, 1 car hay; Baltimore & Ohio, 7 cars hay, 7 cars oats.

There was a firm demand for oats yesterday and bidding was good. Hay is so low the dealers refuse to pay any attention to it. Straw is plentiful and slow. Millfeed is a little lower and not going so fast as last week. Business in general was quiet yesterday.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

A letter from Rhyolite, Nev., in the Bullfrog mining district, says: "John McKane, representing Charles M. Schwab, has purchased from McIntyre & Bowes their bond on the Great Eastern group on Bonanza mountain, which neighbors the town of Rhyolite. The bond taken by McIntyre & Bowes called for $20,000, and it is said McKane paid them a bonus of $100,000. McIntyre & Bowes developed the property during the time of their option—40 days—and uncovered ore that assayed $707 per ton. McKane and his engineers express the opinion that the Denver true fissure vein runs through the Great Eastern and that the values found there are the same.

"Bonanza mountain is now the scene of much feverish activity. A strike is reported on the Gibraltar property on Bonanza mountain, less than 1,000 feet away from the Denver claim. Superintendent Schwab, while inspecting along No. 4 ledge on the Gibraltar, discovered that the ledge carried very fine specimens of free gold ore on the surface. The point at which this discovery was made is about 400 feet in a straight line above the mouth of the tunnel, and about 800 feet above the towns of Rhyolite and Bullfrog.

"Parallel to and 1,000 feet to the east side of Bonanza mountain, which comprises the Gibraltar Mines Syndicate property, are six distinct ledges. At almost any point where these ledges outcrop gold values can be found either by panning or by assay. The Great Eastern property, just purchased by McKane, is several hundred feet east of the Gibraltar ground and on the same slope.

"Bonanza mountain contains such great properties as the Tramp, Denver and Eclipse groups, on all of which shipping ore is found. One of the most fascinating studies in the Bullfrog country is the great Tramp ledge, extending the Gibraltar ledge entirely across the Gilfillan ground. It is at least 300 feet wide in places, as shown by the outcroppings.

"Continuous strikes on the property of the Bullfrog National Bank Mining Company on Ladd mountain have been followed by strikes on the properties adjoining, namely, the Bullfrog Mining Company and the Montana Bullfrog Mining Company. The enormous gold-bearing vein which is uncovered on the property of the Bullfrog National Bank Mining Company for a width of 125 feet, and extending 3,000 feet on the ledge, runs through the entire mountain, and penetrates both of the other properties, as shown by recent development work. We are thus safe in estimating that $200 per ton is being sacked on the dumps of the Bullfrog National Bank Mining Company, and it is said the first shipment will be made to the smelters at Salt Lake City next week."

BOSTON, June 21.—The market continued very strong today and the trading was very lively throughout the list. About 2 o'clock a report came from New York that the City Trust Company of Philadelphia had closed its doors. This caused a slight reaction, but stocks closed firm in most cases, with good gains for the day. A. C. F. did not show much life, but the coppers in Boston acted very well. Almost was well bought throughout the day and both Utah, Parrot, Mohawk, Utah, Calumet and Tamarack all made good advances.
